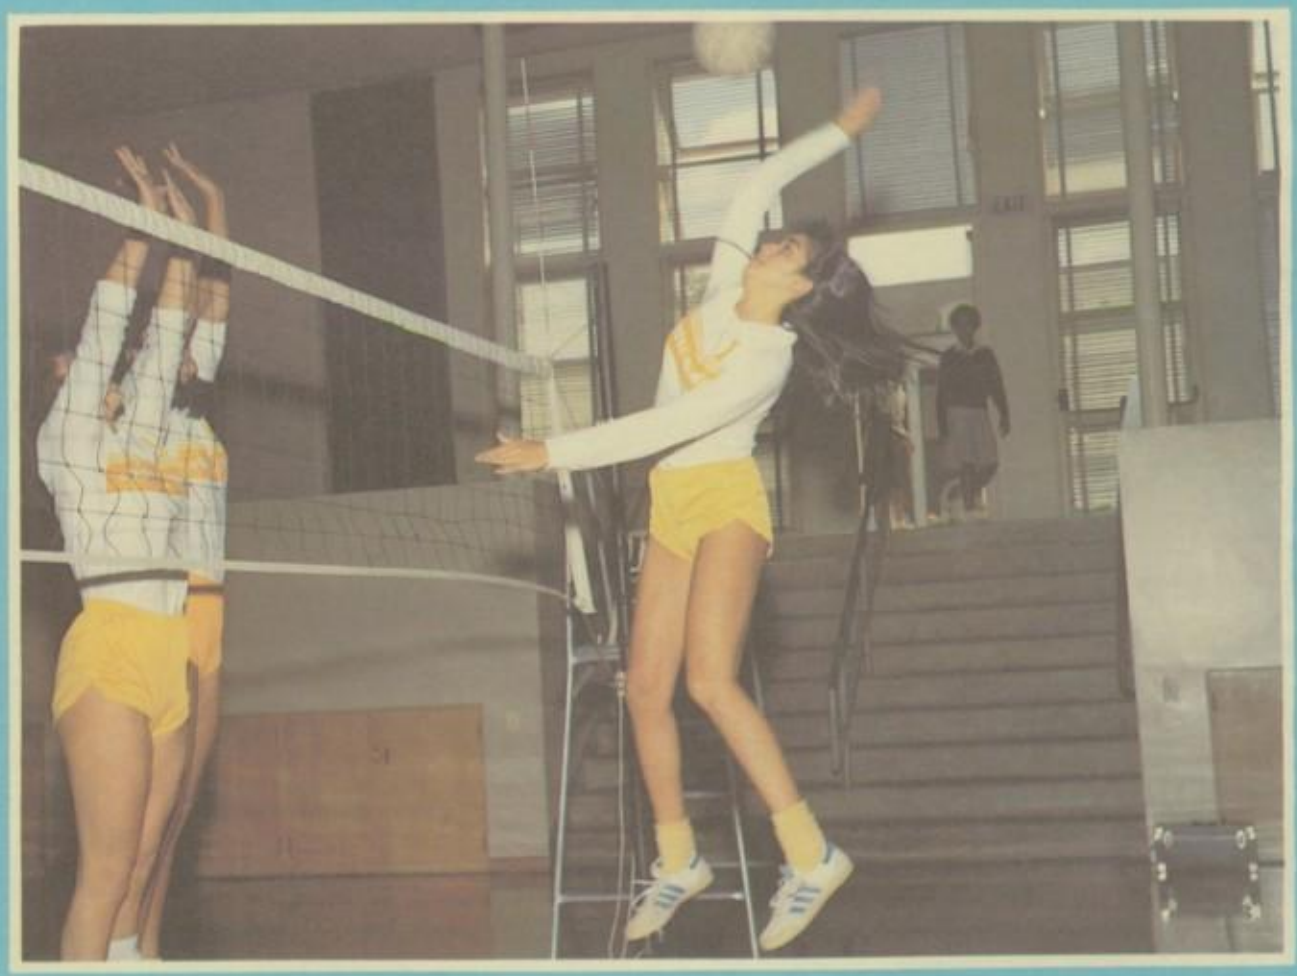
"N.D.A. SAMPLER"

PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF
NOTRE DAME ACADEMY
2851 OVERLAND AVE.
LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA 90064

Notre Dame Academy in its thirty-two years of existence has matured as a prestigious institution. From a small group of students learning at Notre Dame Elementary, the school grew into more than 400 students working and playing on an altogether separate campus. The school offers a college preparatory curriculum, which was unheard-of for young women a hundred years ago. The once tiny faculty has necessarily expanded to cover over 100 different classes.



Dear Aida, high! how are you? The end of the school year is almost here and all I can say is that we've made it! It's been a long run but I'm glad I'm not coming back! I may miss you but I'm gonna miss my classes, I mean a few of my classmates and me calling each other on the phone. Don't forget to keep in touch! Stay as sweet as always and remember I'll always love you, Lisa

1. These seniors show their spirit and loyalty to the Class of 1982 on Notre Dame Day.
2. A colorful locker greets Samantha Butts and the locker's owner, Jenny Carter.
3. Marquina Munoz attempts a spike over Bonnie Abaunza and Monica McNicholas at volleyball practice. This practice paid off as the NDA team captured first place in the Sunshine League, the first time the Queens captured a CIF championship.
4. Mr. Tom Brenner, Mrs. Meredeth Vogler, Sister Mary Emilie and Mrs. Barbara Roth gather for a meeting of the Curriculum Committee.

1. A sign of the times: these students work on the brand new computers.
2. This is the front entrance and the convent as they looked in the late 1930's.
3. This peaceful spot is the nearby corner of National Boulevard and Overland Avenue which now sees an office building and the busy Santa Monica Freeway.
4. Bernadette Ceballos has a great time at the Big-Little Sister party held at Palms Park.

Everything has not changed, though. Notre Dame holds dear many traditions. Notre Dame Day and Mary's Day will always happen here because of their special significance to our patroness, the Blessed Virgin Mary. Other events such as the Guild Fashion Show and Mother-Daughter Night are special and undoubtedly, academic excellence continues to be a very important tradition.

5. Sister Marie Paul watches early morning hijinks with amusement.
6. Elated freshmen applaud another point scored by their class volleyball team on Notre Dame Day.
7. Lydia Robles wraps up another art project.

Life at Notre Dame is a blend of the old and the new. The old customs are retained, but the school always remains open to new ideas and challenges. Among these rather limited pages are a sampler of the many facets of Notre Dame life during the 1981-1982 school year. These memories are preserved so that one way see the school as it progresses through a new decade.

1. Proudly waving her class banner, Mylene Recto leads the junior class cheer.
2. Michelle Green receives Holy Communion from Sister Marie Paul in a student body Mass.
3. Laura Houck begins a new program for her Math Topics class.
4. This is the rectangular "circle" and the convent as one pulls into the driveway today.
5. This is the building (today the convent) as it looked in the first half of the century.

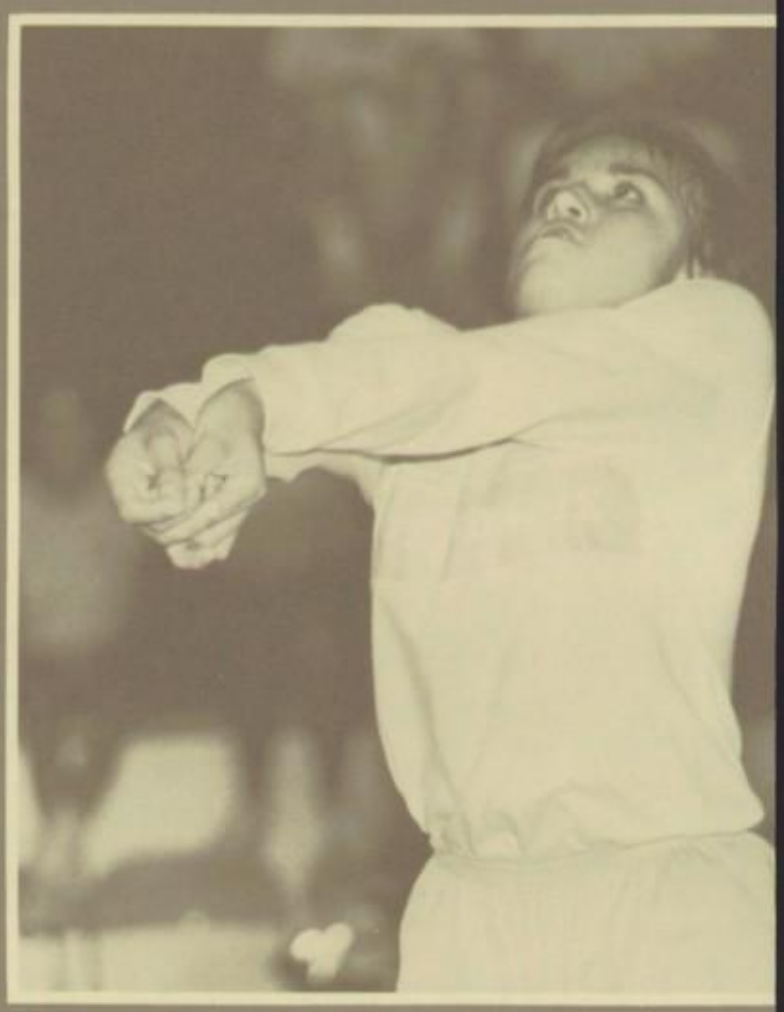
6. In the early hours of the morning on Thursday, October 1, a generator overheated on the first floor, causing the fire sprinklers to pour out water, at the rate of 60 gallons per minute, for a total of 45 minutes. Phones rang off the hook as the students were called to stay home that day. Here in the art room, one of several firefighters assists in cleaning up the flood.
7. Erin Sullivan makes a few announcements before the close of another school day.
8. Mary Vorndran and Ann O'Donnell act out their favorite Canterbury tale for Miss Sheilah Jones' senior English class.

ACTIVITIES

During the nineteenth century, people felt that a high school education caused children to despise manual labor. Only boys could be admitted to a high school, and academics was the major focus—English, math, social studies and science.

Today it is believed that education must include a variety of experiences. A person learns through such activities as drama, choral groups, sports and many other meaningful events. NDA promotes these to help each student develop her own potential beyond the usual classroom.

1. Participating in the first Mass of the school year is freshman Yuka Suzuki.
2. Tory Williams shares the joy of the Pal-o-gram which she received during Friendship Week.
3. Queens' Council member Bonnie Abaunza greets a guest on Back-to-School Night.
4. Enjoying the festivities of the Big/Little Sister Party are Betina Doerr, Linda Stevens, Melissa Maden and Jenny Carter.
5. Lisa Jungheim lets the cheering go to her head.
6. In deep concentration during a varsity volleyball game is super-spiker Marquina Munoz.
7. Sophomore Judy Story performs with the flag team.



Welcome home to NDA

Summer '81 was over. NDA students donned their uniforms and returned to school for the beginning-of-the-year activities: deciphering schedules, meeting new teachers and friends, hauling the new heavy textbooks, such as the AP biology book and adjusting to the newness. After a summer of uncertainty (between the baseball strike and the air controller's strike) a certain element of security prevailed as the school year started. The summer had brought some change to the campus: additional landscaping had been provided by Mr. Julius Nuccio; room 110 was converted to a Student Council/Campus Ministry room; and computers were purchased for the use of the students.

1. Cynthia Vasquez prepares to have her school picture taken. In the background are Chris Gonzalez, Ana Segundo, Christina Cruz and Rochelle Mitchell.
2. Betina Doerr meets her little sister.
3. Welcoming Mrs. Marcia Kreminski back to the world of math is Mylene Recto and Kate Denlea.
4. Nothing like a rotating schedule with variations known as Schedule A, Schedule B, Schedule C, Schedule D, etc. to confuse a veteran like senior Natty Priestley.
5. This big/little sister combo is Anne Ross and Nancy Denlea.
6. Student Council members preparing for an orientation include (back row) Kate Denlea, Melanie Piech, Erin Sullivan, Anne Cervenak, Sue Brennan, Maureen Burns and Carleen Nelson; seated are Patti Vogt, Mylene Recto and Sheila O'Connell.

Class of '83 adopts Class of '85

It has been a tradition at Notre Dame Academy for each junior to adopt a little sister from the freshman class. This is done in order to acquaint the freshmen with those already familiar with the school. On Friday, September 11, immediately after dismissal, the juniors met with their little sisters at Palms Park for a picnic and a fun-filled afternoon. Each junior supplied a lunch for herself and her little sister. Games were played such as the suitcase race and the three-legged race, and candy was supplied to the winners. After the games, watermelon, an appropriate treat for the warm sunny day, was devoured hungrily by each big-little sister pair. Everyone had a good time and enjoyed the afternoon.

Friendship Week brings warm fuzzies to NDA!

During the week of September 21, the Student Council sponsored Friendship Week, a time to make new friends and show appreciation to friends of past days.

Monday found the seniors conducting Senior Fun Day at Palms Park. Activities such as the crazy clothes race, water balloon toss, three-legged race and potato sack race kept everyone excited and busy during lunch period.

Tuesday was Magic Penny Day. Gold-painted pennies were supplies to ten girls in each homeroom. They were to be given to someone with a compliment.

Wednesday was Warm Fuzzy Day. Pal-o-grams were bought and sent to a friend with a message. Proceeds from the sale of Pal-o-grams were sent to Covenant House, a home for runaway teen-agers in New York.

Second Childhood Day on Thursday brought out the bottles and teddy bears.

The Friendship Week finale was a dance held on Friday, September 25. Venice rocked the NDA gym with live music and a large crowd enjoyed the evening.

Mary plaques blessed on Notre Dame Day

During the Mass which opened the festivities on Notre Dame Day, Rev. Jim Forsen of St. Joan of Arc Church blessed the plaques of Mary which were hung in each classroom. The liturgy was planned by Sister Mary Emilie and the Campus Ministry. After Mass, the Student Council members made a pledge to fulfill the important leadership roles entrusted to them by the students.

Frosh capture VB intramurals

Following the Mass and Student Council Induction, each class participated in the rallies, showing their spirit and talent. The superhero seniors, jukebox juniors, secret service sophs and farmhouse freshmen let loose in the gym with cheers, songs and dances. After lunch, the intramural volleyball games were held. The mighty Class of '82 had won for three consecutive years. In the first round, the frosh defeated the juniors and the seniors defeated the sophs. Play-offs found a very spirited freshman team beating the seniors to capture the intramural trophy.

Parents get a taste of the "REAL WORLD"

Twice during the early weeks of the school year, parents had a chance to experience the "REAL WORLD". On Wednesday, September 30, juniors and seniors and their parents braved a freak and vicious thunderstorm to attend College Night. The program opened with a panel of speakers who discussed such topics as the community colleges, financial aid, the University of California system and the Cal State system. Afterwards, representatives from such colleges as USC, UCLA, Vassar, LMU, California Lutheran College, and the Air Force Academy were available to give advice and information. Wednesday, October 14 found many parents attending Back-to-School Night; after a program which allowed the students to demonstrate their skills in music, flags and cheering, each class was held for five minutes so that the individual teachers could explain the purpose of the particular course and their policies.

5. Discussing future plans for college are Alicia Escudero and a representative from the University of San Diego.
6. Serving refreshments on Back-to-School Night are Mrs. John Lahickey, Ann Boyd, Linda Ambrose (partially hidden) and Mrs. Bob Caldwell.

Varsity Volleyball captures first place in Sunshine League

The Notre Dame varsity volleyball team captured first place in the Sunshine League for the 1981-1982 season. Through the great coaching of Mr. Tom Brenner, the team was able to keep an impressive 12-2 record. The team practiced hard and diligently all season, learning new plays and revising old ones. Through their tremendous effort, team work, good spirit and sportsmanship, the team was able to capture the league title and go to play-offs.

Special recognition must be given to two players: Marquina Munoz and Tracy Sullivan. Marquina made first team All-League for the season and second team in the Marlborough Tournament. Tracy made second team All-League for the season.

JV Volleyball wins second place

ND's junior varsity volleyball team captured second place in the Sunshine League this season with an impressive 8-2 record. Because of their great team spirit, rigorous practice, and devotion to the sport, they were able to accomplish this record. Thanks to the constant support and encouragement of coach Mr. Tom Brenner, the players were able to go into the games with the confidence and the decisiveness needed among good athletes. It is not difficult to see that next year's varsity will be a winning team.

Flag team motivates school spirit

Following an exhausting schedule of practicing three days a week for three hours a day, the flag team was well prepared for their performances. The team was headed by Betina Doerr, the captain, and Patty Poduska from the Class of 1981, the coach and choreographer. Patty was able to share her experience of being on the flag team of the U.S.C. marching band with the NDA flag team.

NDA VB makes history

For the first time in the school's history, the varsity volleyball team went to the C.I.F. play-offs as a first place team. With a record of 12-2 the varsity competed against Montebello High School in the first round. They played three out of five games and came out with the impressive scores of 15-10, 15-7, and 15-9 consecutively. In the second play-off game, Notre Dame was defeated by Corona del Mar.

Runners gain experience in cross country

If one wanted to describe N.D.A.'s cross country team in words, determination, endurance, and spirit are only a few. The girls started practicing in September to prepare themselves for the upcoming track season. They practiced four days a week under the coaching of Ms. Diana Harmon.

In competition the girls were required to run three miles, instead of two miles as they had run the previous year.

In the Sunshine League Cross Country Finals, the last meet of the season, the fastest runner, Nikki Thomas, shot across the finish line setting the team record-twenty minutes, seventeen seconds. She placed eleventh out of 45 runners. Congratulations to Nikki, Coach Harmon, and the rest of the team for their tremendous effort.

Halloween spectacles fun and frolics

Halloween at NDA was anticipated by one day since October 31 fell on a Saturday and no one was anxious to have an extra school day just to celebrate. The Student Council coordinated games during the lunch period on Thursday, October 29. Best of all, the students had a chance to trade in uniforms for costumes on Friday. The costumes ranged from loveable Raggedy Ann to fearsome surgeons. There was even a new student in the traditional uniform, namely Mr. Tom Hake. The best costumes were judged and a winner was declared in each homeroom. There were several extraordinary entries in the pumpkin decorating contest, ranging from punk to the more traditional. Everyone enjoyed the activities and were glad for the change in school life.

Families share Guild's "Potpourri of Fashions"

November 15, 1981, marked the date of the Notre Dame Guild's fashion show, once again held at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel. This season's popular fashions were provided by Lanz, At Ease, and Polka Fashions. Raffle drawings were held throughout the afternoon, and Notre Dame's Madrigals and Concert Choir were featured, under the direction of Mrs. Wendy Susank.

This event was very special because two of the stars from "Dallas", Linda Gray, an NDA alumna from the Class of '58, and Audrey Landers, participated actively in the day's events. Many thanks to all who contributed to the success of the affair, especially to Mrs. Mary Burns, chairperson for the event.

Juniors "go to seek a great perhaps"

The memorable day for the Junior Class was the Ring Day, Monday, November 23, 1981. The day started with a Mass concelebrated by Father Perry Leiker, Father Jim Forsen and Father Patrick O'Dwyer. The Mass and the Ring Ceremony had a theme which reflected the juniors' optimistic anticipation of the challenges facing them: "I go to seek a great perhaps."

Special congratulations went to the following juniors who served on the planning committee: Mylene Recto, Linda Stevens, Esther Nakano, Patti Vogt, Kate Denlea, Anne Cervanak and Alicia Brass.

Determination marks Varsity Basketball

Determination was the theme of the varsity basketball team this year. The team members, along with Coach Philomena O'Donnell and captain Ellen Hodel, have all shown tremendous spirit and tenancity. They worked very hard all during the season, practicing two, even three hours a day, five days a week. Alicia Brass, Mary Lou Finn and Tina Ghazarians gave much promise for the varsity team next year.

J.V. Basketball Team gets experience at hoop

With another season behind them, the junior varsity basketball team once again showed off their unbeatable talents. Leading the team into many victories was captain Valencia Roner, who was assisted by co-captain Giselle Mata. Their long hours of practice and drilling paid off. Under the direction of Coach Philomena O'Donnell, the junior varsity team members gained quite a bit of experience that should help them in their basketball future.

"Call Him King"

"Call Him King" was the theme of this year's annual Christmas concert, which took place on Friday, December 11, 1981. The groups that performed were the Choraliers, Concert Choir, and the Madrigals. Six singers from Loyola High School and Baldwin Park High School have been added to the Ensemble or Madrigal Singers. Some favorites that they sang were "Wildfire," "Elijah Rock," and "Blue Moon." After their performances the three groups combined into one and sang "Mary, Mary" complete with sign language. At the end the choruses surrounded the audience and sang "White Christmas". Recognition goes to pianist Rosa Bravo, guitarist Adeline Reyes and flutist Maria DePrano for their accompaniment. Thanks to conductor Mrs. Wendy Susank, the evening turned out quite successful.

Record number attends annual math contest

Notre Dame Academy filled with students — on a Saturday? Such was the case on January 9, when Notre Dame held its annual Math Contest. The final registration amounted to over 200 students, the largest group which has ever attended this event. The contest included five rounds, each round consisting of ten problems. As the rounds progressed the questions become more difficult. The sweepstakes trophy was won by St. Mel School of Woodland Hills, while the first place trophy was won by Dan Van Beveran of Our Lady of Peace School. Other schools that attended included Notre Dame Academy, Holy Name, Visitation, St. Bernard, St. Augustine, Cathedral Chapel, Blessed Sacrament, St. Benedict's, Immaculate Heart, Maryknoll, St. Paschal Baylon, St. Jerome's, Holy Trinity, American Martyrs and St. Bernadette's.

1. Andrea Kallai and Christina Cruz help Sister Margaret Mary distribute the papers to anxious students.
2. Juliana Nuccio, among other helpful NDA students, helps tally each participant's score and the cumulative score of the schools. These results determine the sweepstakes winner.
3. These eighth-grade students express their anticipation before the contest begins.
4. In another classroom, participants listen attentively while the directions are given.
5. Pandemonium strikes in the library as the scantrons are distributed for scoring purposes.
6. Sister Mary Lisa congratulates one of the winners as she hands him his trophy.

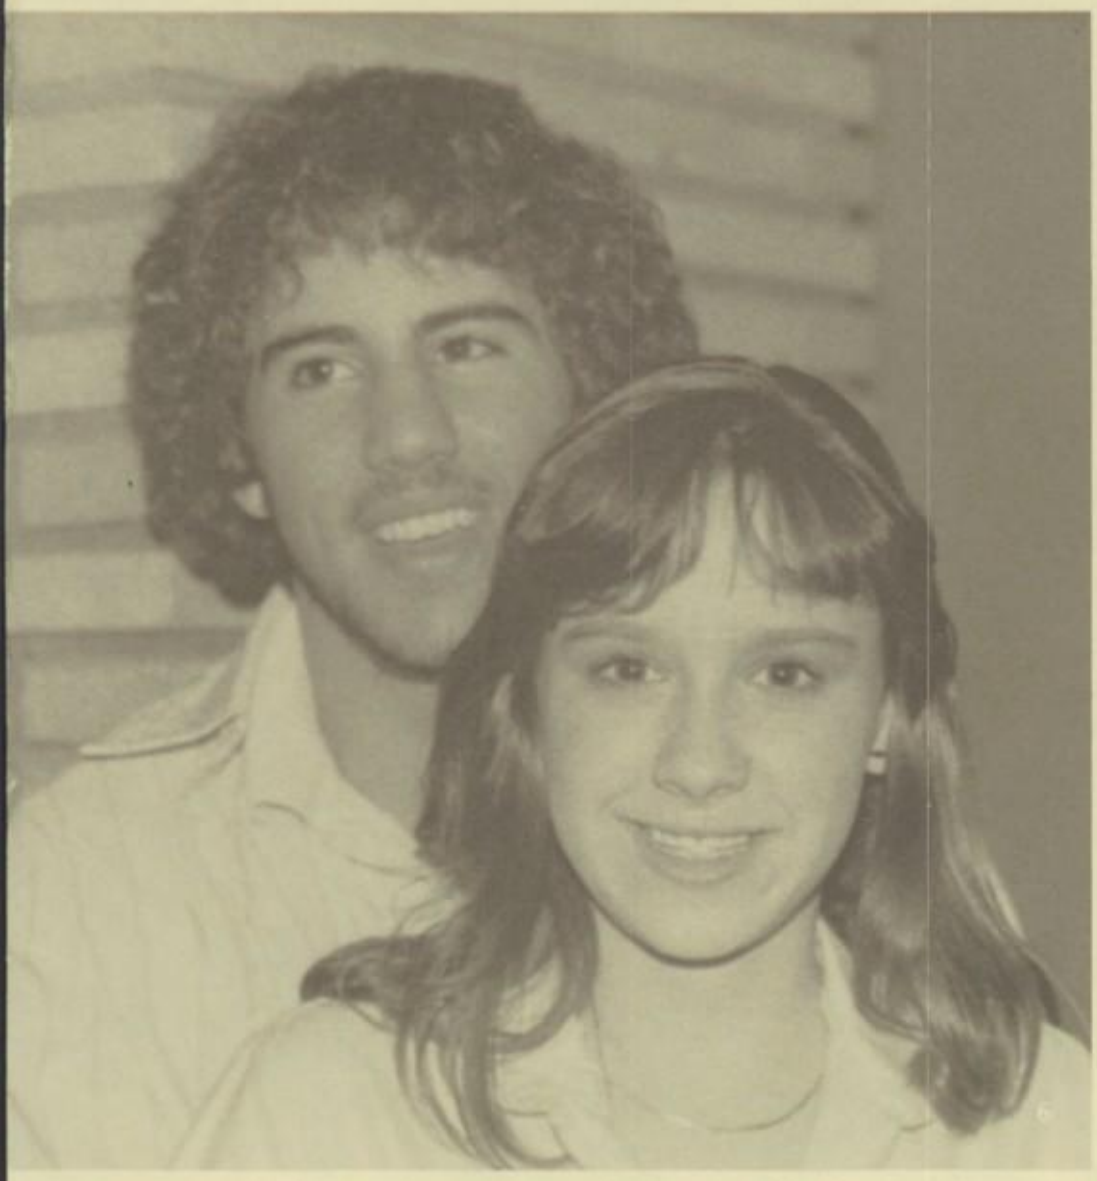
Xtremes play Valentine's Dance

With Valentine's Day just a week away and semester exams over, a great crowd turned out for the Valentine's Dance on Friday, February 5. The music was provided by the Xtremes and it was a night of dancing and making new friends. For the first time, photos of couples and other groups were taken so that the night could become a spcial memory.



1. Taking time out from the dance, Julie Ryan, Sylvia Padilla, Michele McDonald, and Lori DeAngelis pose for the Valentine's Dance picture.
2. Mimi Melendez dances the night away.
3. Alicia Brass and her date, Doug Karlott pose for a memorable picture.
4. Debbie Boutte and Ashley Tucker smile for the camera.
5. Another happy couple at the dance are Yvette Prado and Mike Kabalyn.
6. Maria DeArana and Carlos de la Torre show their thoughts about the dance on film.

Frosh win chocolate drive

Improvements around the campus were the goal for this year's World's Finest Chocolate Drive, coordinated by Sister Mary Emilie and the Queen's Council. The annual event, held from February 4 through 18, found the students selling the double bar with prizes being awarded to those students who sold two or more boxes. The entire school reached 100%, winning a free day, with the freshman class capturing first place with a staggering 164.8%. Other class standings were: sophomores, 145.8%: juniors, 104.9%; and seniors, 102.3%.

1. This group of spirited freshmen are voicing their enthusiasm about their first place victory.
2. Senior Juli Nuccio, a member of the Queen's Council, helps distribute chocolate bars at the opening of the drive.
3. The freshmen in homeroom 307 cheer exuberantly after hearing that they were the highest selling homeroom during the drive.
4. Notre Dame cheerleaders Cori Jackson, Sonjia Fielder and Susie Campos kick off the World's Finest Chocolate Drive with a short skit.
5. The top sellers are (back row) Christina Doherty, Melissa Zacahary, Lisa Jungheim, and Dianne Mottler; (front row) Mylene Gabriel, Arianne Farwell and Jenny Gabriel.
6. A member of the Student Council, Debbie Boutte, is distributing chocolate to the eager sellers on the first day of the drive.
7. Lisset Fernandez, Valencia Roner, Alexis Boles and Gabby Priestley give some beaming smiles because their class captured second place.
8. Sister Anna Marie shares the excitement of winning with the members of 307.

Speakers share experiences at Mother - Daughter Night

A new approach was tried for Mother-Daughter Night this year. To help the students and their mothers become more aware of the different lifestyles open to women today, the Student Council arranged to have a career panel. The various topics presented were college life, the life of an intern, and the life of a working mother. These topics were discussed by Patty Poduska '81, Guadalupe Padilla '73, and Mrs. Monika Sullivan respectively.

So that the evening would not be totally serious, mothers and daughters were invited to partake in the Notre Dame version of the Newlywed Game. Mother/daughter pairs competed for points by concurring on answers for such questions as "What is your daughter's favorite sport?" and "Who is your mother's favorite actor?" To wrap up the evening, refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

Campus ministry gives second year of service

The NDA Campus Ministry was a team of juniors, seniors and faculty members who promoted a Catholic atmosphere in the school. Adult leaders who assisted with the various committees included Sister Gina Marie, Sister Marie Paul, Sister Mary Emilie, Sister Anna Maria, Sister Mary Lisa, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Gilbert and Miss Adele Rennie.

In the course of the school year, reflective experiences were provided through the organization and initiative of Campus Ministry. During November, a bulletin board in the main hall displayed photographs and memorial cards of deceased relatives and friends of faculty and students as a reminder to pray for them. During January, a special prayer service was held for the people in Poland. Memorable liturgies, class retreats and Bible study sessions helped the students improve their relationship with God and each other.

Sharing God's goodness through service

Christian service projects sponsored by the Student Council provided a chance for every student to help others in their community. Holiday motifs were the themes for many activities. For Thanksgiving, each homeroom collected a supply of canned goods and money for a turkey for an underprivileged family of St. Lawrence of Brindisi Church in Los Angeles. At Christmas, a toy drive garnered presents for the poor children of the same parish. Several parties, including one with a St. Patrick's Day theme, were held for the elderly in convalescent homes.

A christian service committee, formed in the second semester, helped organize the activities. Headed by Patti Vogt, Commissioner of Christian Service, this group sought involvement from all members of the student body.

This page is sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. James Padden.

4. Patti Vogt, shown here, is lending a helping hand in the Thanksgiving food drive.

While the entire student body had a chance to experience Christian service activities, one class especially became more involved. Through Genesis II, a required religion course, the seniors donated their time and efforts to serve various sectors of the community. The range of tasks was vast, including working with children, with the elderly, and in health-related jobs.

Many girls opted to work with children. Monique Abatte volunteered at the Jeffrey Foundation for handicapped youngsters. On Saturdays she and three other volunteers would escort a group of twelve children — many with autism or Down's Syndrome, a few in wheelchairs — on field trips to museums, the snow-covered mountains, and other interesting places. Mary Bancud helped the teachers at Notre Dame Academy Elementary School by correcting papers, tutoring, and supervising. Babysitting for free suited Geri Mulvihill best as she cared for a lively two-year-old child. Arianne Farwell served her parish as a CCD teacher. Her Saturdays and Sundays were spent teaching prayers and preparing youngsters to receive the sacraments. Roshan's Pre-School received help from Louise Lussier and Sandy Viteri. Three times a week, these two seniors supervised two- to five-year-olds in the playground, at games and projects, at lunch, and at rehearsals for a mini-pageant.

Other girls preferred to work for the opposite end of the spectrum. Besides the usual duties, Erin Sullivan, who volunteered at the Santa Monica Lodge, a convalescent home, took her charges to a nearby McDonald's for sundaes. At the Beverly Manor, another convalescent home, Patty Jahn led exercise programs, delivered mail and Valentines, and helped with entertainment. Kim Noel played nurse and companion to her ailing grandmother, the victim of four heart attacks, diabetes and high blood pressure.

Some seniors opted to see health-related careers in action. On Saturday mornings, Vilma Mosquera went to work for St. Vincent's Medical Center in the mail-room. Lisa Harpenau assisted her orthodontist with patients and in preparing seminars; her experience led her to pursue a career in orthodontics. Three seniors worked together at the UCLA Neuropsychiatric Institute. Elena Diaz, Lorena Palacio and Grace Roa played with the children staying at the institute. Sometimes the youngsters, mostly under four years of age, could be a little on the rough side. Lorena Palacio's wrist was accidentally hurt during her hours of service.

The Christian Service was a major part of the Genesis II program, which was to develop a deeper sense of God and self. The varied experiences gave the seniors a chance to serve their neighbors and grow as persons.

Cheerleaders achieve new status

NDA can be proud of the award-winning cheerleaders: Kim Green (captain), Natty Priestley (co-captain), Susy Campos, Cathy Castaneda, Sonjia Fielder, Cori Jackson, and Anitra Manchester.

The girls attended the summer camp conducted by the United Spirit Association. By performing and competing against hundreds of other squads every day, they earned the coveted Spirit Stick twice and many superior ribbons. On Award Day, the final event of the camp, they were awarded the most-spirited certificate and the trophy for the hardest-working squad.

6. Standing in formation while waiting for a break in the game are Kim Green, Cathy Castaneda and Natty Priestley.
7. Acting out the cheer for the audience are Susy Campos and Anitra Manchester.

Guild initiates new activities

Under the leadership of Mr. Julius Nuccio, president of the Notre Dame Guild, the parents of NDA students participated in a variety of new activities. These included such events as a Family Mass and continental breakfast held in October and the Valentine party, as well as the traditional Guild activities — the fall fashion show and the Christmas boutique. The parents had the chance to get acquainted and to support the faculty and students.

Students participate in Drama Festivals

Some aspiring young N.D. actresses performed in drama festivals with the help of Ms. Pauline Martin. Working hard to combine their talents, the students managed to reproduce various scenes.

No costumes or sets were allowed in the festivals and the actress could not change any dialogue. The junior high festival took place on October 24, at Mark Twain Junior High. The actresses performed twice before the judges. Both the humorous group (Bible Herstory) and the serious group (The Bad Seed) were semifinalists.

The senior high festival took place on October 14. Since many groups had been practicing for months, this competition was very intense.

1. In a scene from the play The Bad Seed, Rhoda (Susan Tummers) and her mother (Georgia Crist) are heatedly arguing about Rhoda's lying.
2. Gina McKiernan, Evelyn Purwins, and Jenny Conklin are in the midst of performing an excerpt from the play The Crucible.
3. Performing the dual roles of Alice and the queen in a scene from Alice and Wonderland, Mimi Melendez manages to make the transaction smoothly.

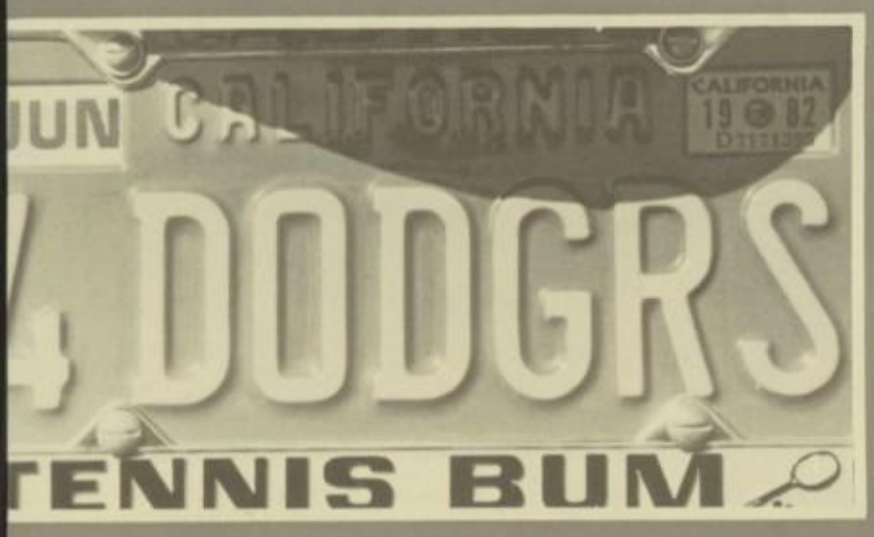
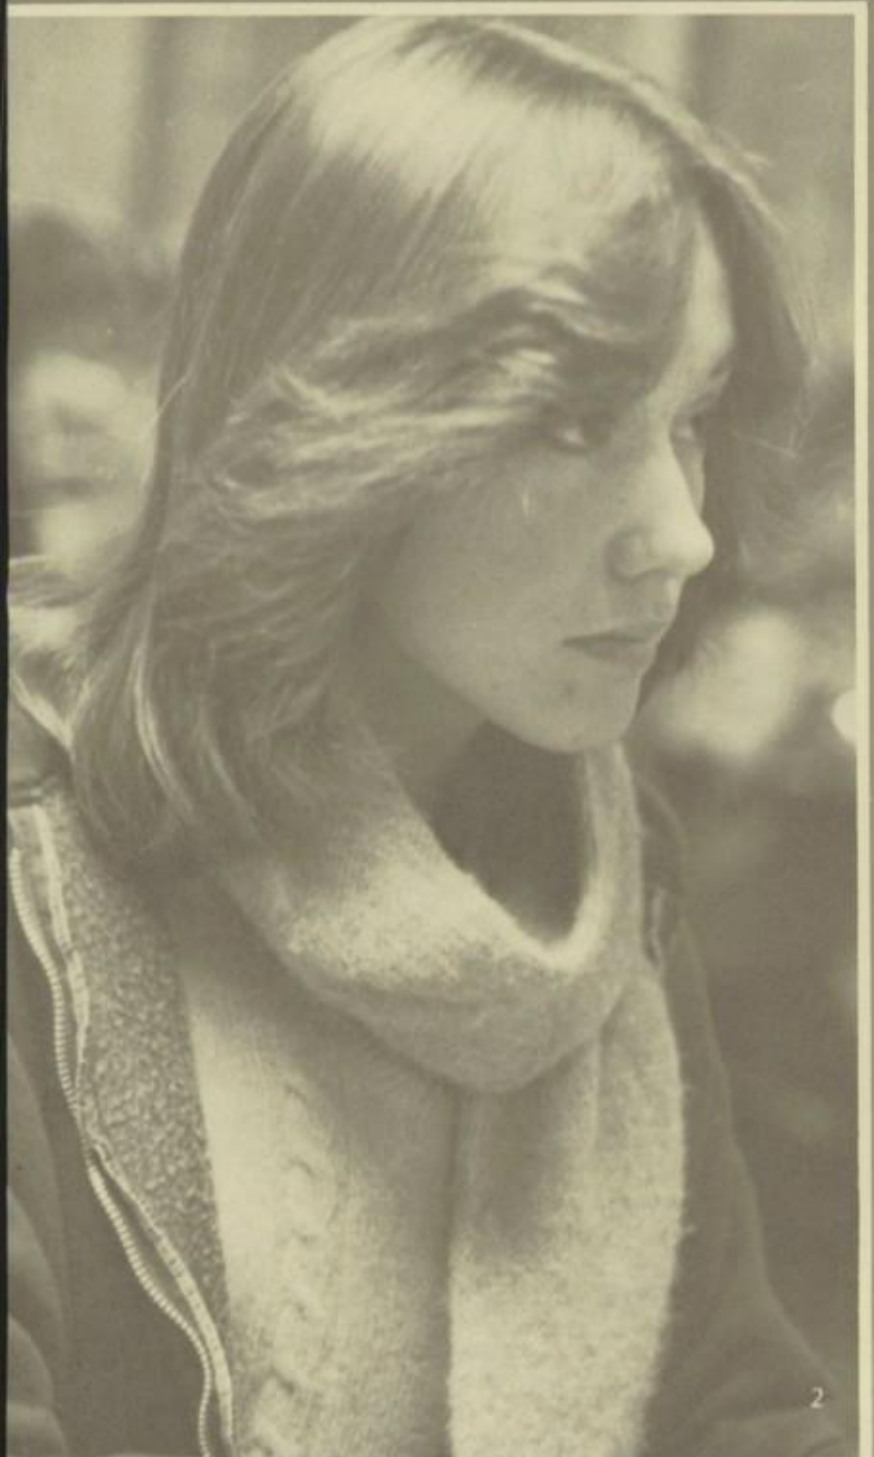
GRADUATES OF 1982





Four memorable years have passed for the Class of 1982. Years of effort, friendship, love; years of classes together, good times and an occasional tear. The Class of 1982 will remember world events that accompanied their Notre Dame days: the success of the American Space Shuttle, the release of the hostages in Iran after more than a year's imprisonment, and the first significant use of solar energy. even in cameras and calculators. And someday, this NOW will become THEN.

Super seniors strike on Notre Dame Day

Once again Notre Dame Day was successful in bringing out the true enthusiasm of the seniors. The theme for the Class of 1982 was evident in costumes, stage backdrop and the skits—the SUPERSENIORS. Michelle Mangione wrote the senior song for the occasion "We Will Fly". After lunch, the seniors were determined to capture the volleymurals for the fourth consecutive year. In the first game, the seniors managed to beat the sophs, but in the second game, the frosh captured the championship.

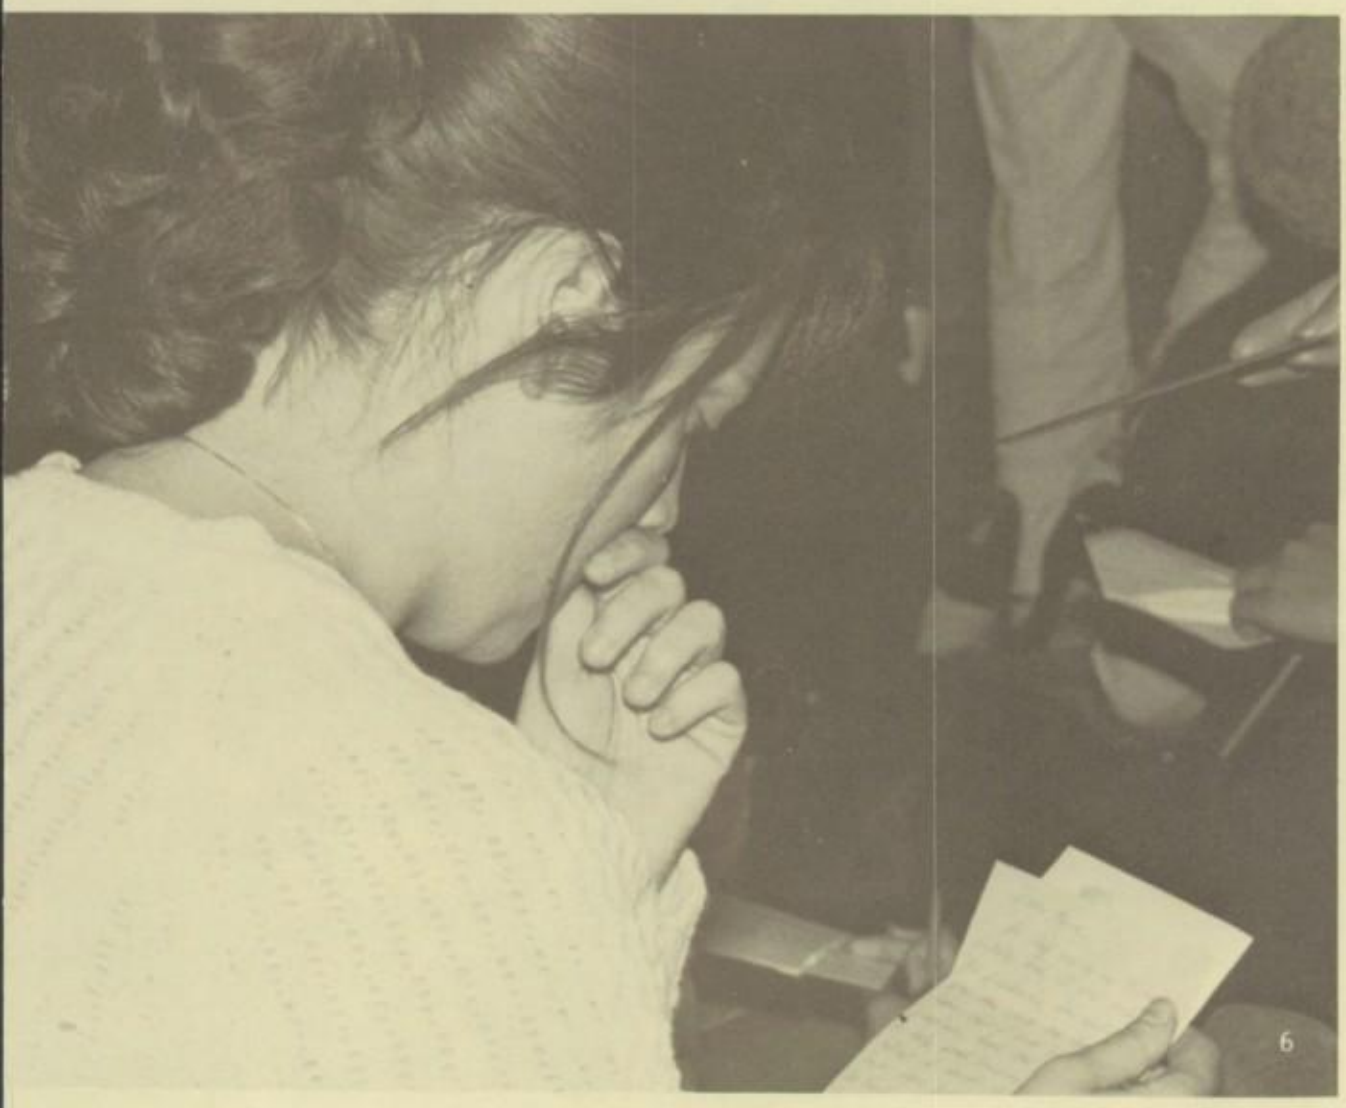
A time for togetherness

Imagine 90 seniors groping their way through the darkness. When the seniors arrived at Camp Mariastella on October 20, this was the scene. With sleeping bags and munchies in hand, they invaded the camp. The days were spent in togetherness activities, with the highlight of the retreat being the celebration of the Eucharist on Thursday morning. Hiking, hearing talks from Father Dick Martini and Father Jim Cooke and sharing in the discussions gave the seniors a chance to think about many different topics and values. It was a personal experience for all and a memory that the Class of '82 will always cherish.



5. Expressing the constant unity and many reactions on the retreat are Mary Bancud, Juliet Szegedi, Teresa Salamunovich, Lourdes Garcia, Landine Cespon, Glenda Collins, Judilyn Powers and Karin Haywood.

All in a senior day

A senior's life is not just filled with academics alone. There are various activities outside school as well. Many girls had such jobs as cashier, clerical work and salesperson. Other girls used their spare time to indulge in music, writing, modeling, poetry, reading, art and handicrafts. Most seniors used sports as a release for excess energy: skiing, swimming, fencing and tennis, for example. High school life, after all, should be more than studying all day (and all night).

We can because we think we can

The Student Council's goal this year was the integration of the student body, Student Council and faculty to form a working team. To achieve this goal the Student Council sponsored activities such as dances, parent-daughter nights, and luncheons, and initiated three committees: publicity, spirit and Christian Service. The student body and faculty were encouraged to participate and contribute their ideas. Not only did the Student Council strive towards team work, but also school pride. To instill this pride, the Student Council worked with a positive outlook to unite the students within a class, the classes within the school, and the students with the faculty. Throughout, the Student Council theme, "We can because we think we can, with our heads in the clouds and our feet on the ground" was a focal point.

Mission Club shares with needy

Members of the Mission Club were continuously busy with the many activities they were involved in. Everyday the Mission Club homeroom representatives went around each classroom and collected money from the students. In addition, they had various other activities that made giving donations more enjoyable, such as the Mad Mission Rally, bake sales, and Crazy Coin days. All of the money the Mission Club received went to missionaries around the world.

Queen's Council reaches out in service

Notre Dame's honorary service society, the Queen's Council, tends to the school. Membership in the society is obtained through a faculty recommendation and a personal interview. The Queen's Council members represented the school at various functions at NDA and elsewhere, such as serving as hostesses at choral concerts, the entrance test, the annual fashion show and open house. This year's officers were Margaret O'Connor, president, Linda Ambrose, vice-president, and Mary Vordran, secretary. Being the only honorary service society in the school, the organization embodies the spirit and enthusiasm characteristic of the NDA students.

GAA leads athletic programs at NDA

The Girls' Athletic Association, whose members include enthusiastic students of each class, sponsors and provides athletic events for the entire student body. The members initiate spirit throughout the school by organizing varsity and intramural sports, including volleyball doubles and triples, basketball shooting, badminton and ping pong tournaments. The highlight of the year is the annual awards banquet held in the spring.

1. Patricia Castellon aims for the birdie during a game of badminton during the tournament.
2. The G.A.A. board members include (back row): Elaine Walsh, president, Lisa Harpenau, publicity, Debbie Sweeney, pep club coordinator, and Julie Felice, secretary; (front row) Carol Gonzalez, sports manager, and Ms. Diana Harmon, moderator.
3. Engaging in the challenge of volleyball doubles are Julie Felice and Alicia Brass.
4. Sienna Pascarella, Christie Lally, and Maria De Arana cheerfully offer support during a home game.

This Page Is Dedicated To The Royale Staff By Mr. Hap Zavack.

Brought to you by . . . the ROYALE staff

Each year the members of the ROYALE staff come together to produce a yearbook, and in the process, their personalities emerge. These come out in the after school hours in such expressions as "HELP!" or "Does anyone have a felt-tip-a-roonie?" or "Guild photos are filed under Mother-Daughter Night". If one were to approach the seniors Ann Boyd, Landine Cespon, Arianne Farwell, Gina Tronci or Juliet Szegedi about their four years of dedication to the yearbook, the following replies might be heard "Boy, do I know it!" or "It's been a great (?) four years".

ACADEMICS

Compared with the curriculum studied by women many decades ago, today's courses are advanced and concentrated. Such options as college level art, computer programming, physiology, Christian Prayer and mass media reflect the interests of the 1980's and the goals of young women like those who attend Notre Dame.

1. Kayla Henry completes one of her projects—a portfolio—for Art I.
2. Yanian Manjuarres and Myra Laus display their acting ability and their use of Spanish in Sister Anna Maria's Spanish II class.
3. Erin Sullivan and Nancy Almodovar work out an applied problem in Math Topics.
4. Discussing a biology lab are Lynette Chelette, Lisette Prieto and Tracy Sullivan.
5. Cristina Sevilla crams for a history exam.
6. Reaching into her locker to grab books for her next class is Leana Legrand.
7. Beth Stein and Dionne Ware simultaneously bump the ball in P.E.

Religion provides a sense of the spiritual

The Catholic atmosphere which is found at Notre Dame Academy stems from the religion classes. A variety of topics and experiences provide the students with a sense of the spiritual — an awareness of the goodness of God and an understanding of the true meaning of love of God and neighbor.

1. Visiting from India, Sister Mary Ann describes the slides which depict the work of the Sisters of Notre Dame in that country.
2. In the spirit of Christmas, Notre Dame students attend a Mass immediately before vacation begins.
3. Alexis Boles, Valencia Roner, and Kairin Whiteside exhibit their posters on the sacraments which they created for their Worship class.
4. As part of the senior required religion course, Genesis II, the students gave of themselves in some sort of Christian Service. Lorena Palacio went above and beyond the call of duty and her arm exemplifies this.
5. Sister Anna Maria explains the vestments worn during Mass to some of the students in her Worship class.

Speech sparks ingenuity

Among the regular English classes, speech served as one of the refreshing electives open to NDA students. The goal in this class was to teach students the art of public speaking, including such methods as impromtu, extemporaneous, oral interpretations as well as prepared speeches. The students learned to express not only their creativity but also their ingenuity and originality. Both students and teachers feel it was an exceptionally worthwhile experience because the skills they learned in the class will be useful all their lives.

Students learn to speak BASIC

Math Topics was introduced as a new course this year. It included the study of applied math problems, statistics, and computer programming. The students experienced such mathematical realities as the hexadecimal system, BASIC as a programming language, relative frequency distributions and polygons, histograms, and flowcharts. A unique activity around Christmas time was the production of holiday graphics—snowmen, Christmas trees, Santa and a bag of gifts and cheery messages.

Pigs become victims in AP

Students interested in pursuing a more thorough science background enrolled in a new course, Advanced Placement Biology. The prerequisite for this class was a "B" average in chemistry. The class covered materials needed to pass the Advanced Placement exam given in May. Sister Gina Marie led the students through such topics as the chemical and cellular basis of life, the biology of organisms, the perpetuation of life, the biology of populations and communities, and the genesis and diversity of organisms. The course gave the students an opportunity to explore many new areas in biology.

Art, Languages, Typing and Government give varied experiences

A great variety of experiences occur in the art, foreign language, typing and social studies courses. Students chose these electives to help them determine special interests that prepared them for college and the world of work. Whether silk-screening, conjugating French, Spanish or German verbs, or analyzing the current events as reported in Newsweek, these courses opended eyes to the world of today and the hopes and challenges of tomorrow.

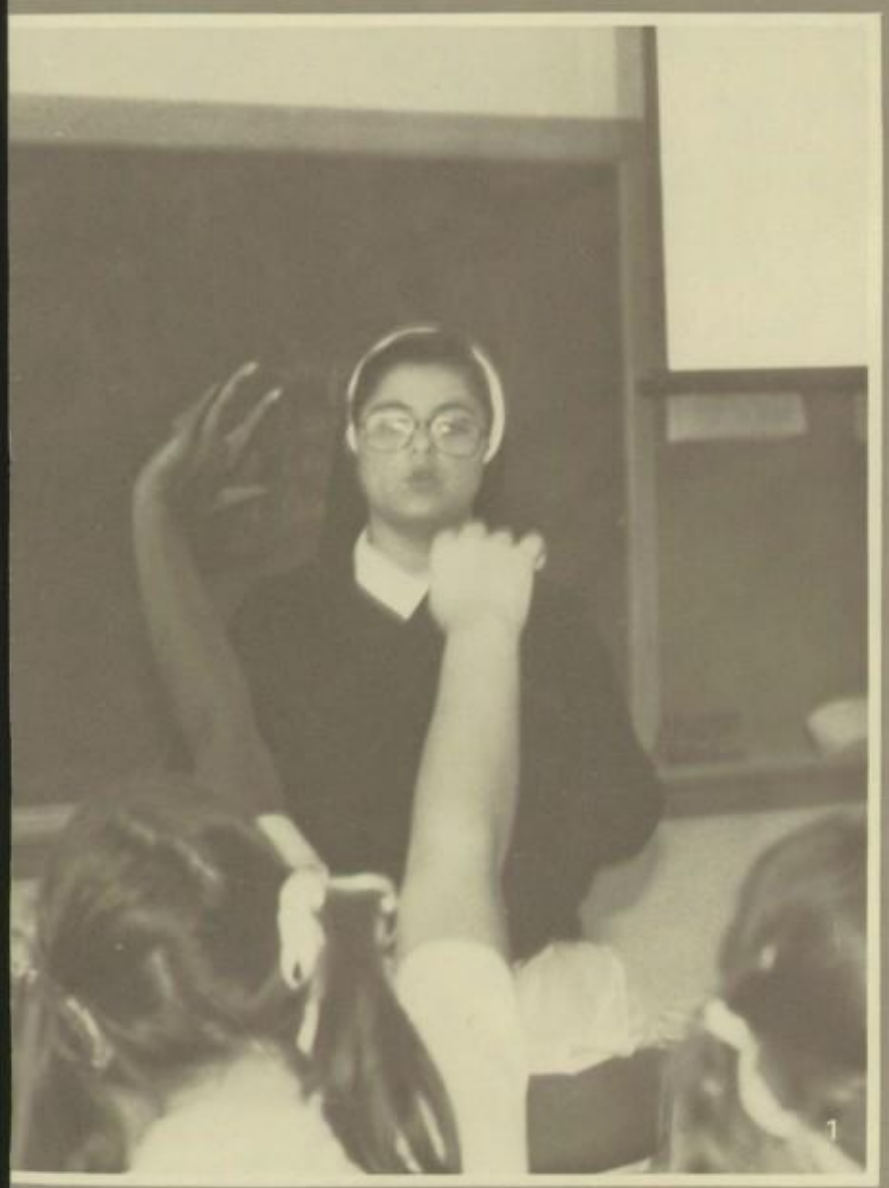
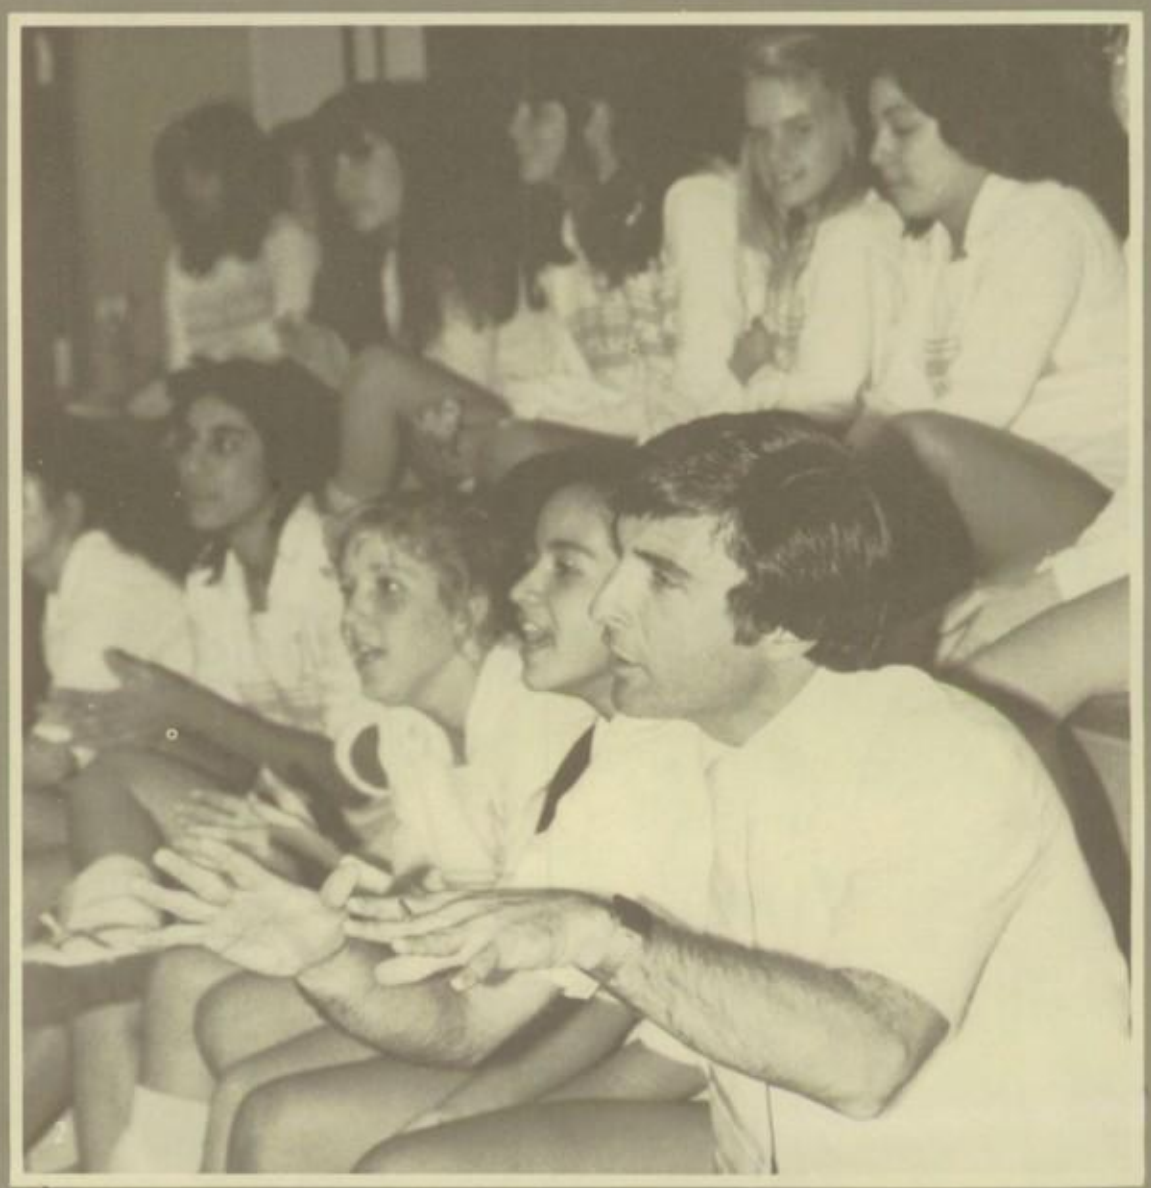
FACULTY





A love of learning has inspired people over the centuries to share the accumulated knowledge of man. The faculty of Notre Dame Academy relects this love of learning and the individual members use every ounce of their creativity to help the students become aware of the past, present and future accomplishments which shape the world.

1. Spanish students respond to questions posed by Sister Anna Maria.
2. Mr. Tom Brenner and members of the volleyball varsity give free advice from the side-lines.
3. Assisting at Mass as a Eucharistic Minister is Sister Marie Paul.
4. Mrs. Mary Durkee and Patti O'Donnell share a moment of gaiety before class.
5. Piano teacher Heidi Meyers and Jenny Conklin show that a piano lesson doesn't have to be dull.
6. Mrs. Wendy Susank tunes her guitar, Fred, before the start of the music class.
7. Outlining the week's events during homeroom period is Sister May Emilie.

When anyone entered the main office, he or she would be helped by one of three people. Sister Gina Marie, when not occupied with her administrative duties or AP Biology, is available. If not, Mrs. Mary Athan, secretary/registrar for eleven years, or Mrs. Gerry Beery were always ready to help. Upstairs, Mrs. Theresa Barasch kept the library's books and periodicals in constant use.

Miss Linda Horwinski

Mrs. Meredeth Vogler

Besides teaching physical education, Ms. Diana Harmon coached softball and moderated the G.A.A. Sister Marie Paul devoted her time to religion classes, Campus Ministry, and Student Council. Ms. Linda Horwinski concentrated on Spanish, while Mrs. Meredeth Vogler divided her time between French and young son, Eric.

There were several newcomers to Notre Dame. While she taught English and religion, Miss Sheilah Jones was a student herself, going for a master's degree in psychology. Miss Mrs. Joanne Kelley handled both freshman English and the counseling office, playing tennis and bridge in her spare time. Sister Mary Emilie, social studies and religion teacher and senior class moderator, enjoyed her first year at NDA; her hobbies include researching subjects of historical interest and international issues.

1. Sharing in the excitement and fun of the guild fashion show are Miss Horwinski and Sister Marie Paul.
2. Kristen Eckley gets some advice on her form for cross country running from Ms. Harmon, the cross country coach.

Mrs. Barbara Roth

Mrs. Marilyn Walsh

When Mrs. Vicki Silverman is not teaching sophomore English, she enjoyed being with her children, music and reading. Mrs. Barbara Roth, whose hobbies included cooking and reading, delighted especially in seeing the successes of each senior in her English classes. Mrs. Marilyn Walsh, another avid reader, taught both American and British literature.

A cultured person who enjoyed reading, cooking, traveling, and art exhibits, Mrs. Catherine Mutz shared her talents through speech, mass media and English classes. In the cafeteria, Sister Mary Selma and Sister Mary Manetia continued to serve a wide variety of snacks and nutritious salads. Sister Anna Maria kept busy with Spanish and religion classes and accounting.

1. During Spanish II, Stephanie Inyama knows the answer to one of Sister Anna Maria's questions.
2. Mrs. Silverman explains the comments that she made on Elsa Barragan's English paper.

She enjoyed the freedom to teach in her own way. Another teacher with her own special methods was Mrs. Ann Gilbert, senior religion teacher; her best experience of the year was the senior retreat. Miss Michele Galier, NDA's business instructor and college counselor, also had an interesting experience with her students. On the morning of the small earthquake, she was surprised to find that her class had complete disappeared — only to reappear from beneath their desks.

Dear Aida,
May 1982
We've gone through a lot this year – both good and not-so-good. We also did a lot of growing up, I think, too. I don't think I would've made it without you and the rest of the gang. Thank for the strength and support you willingly gave when I needed it most. You've helped me a lot in many ways, and I'll always remember the good advice you gave me.
I hope that we get to be even better pals as the years pass. Our friendship means so much to me. I can go on and on, but I think you got the message.
You're a cute Flip (of course), you've got intelligence, you've got a terrific personality, and I know you'll be happy and successful in the future.
Good luck to you and take care!
I LOVE YOU.

First off-campus Junior retreat

The juniors have made many firsts at Notre Dame, one of which was a full day, off-campus retreat held at St. Joseph's Retreat House in Rosemead on November 17, 1981.

The Class of 1983 spent the day learning about their true selves, the importance of unity, honesty, loyalty and love of God. They viewed filmstrips and movies, played games, and had several group discussions.

The juniors appreciated the assistance of Sister Marie Paul for organizing the day, to Sister Mary Lisa for her support, and to Fr. Jim Forsen who said the Mass. The following seniors of Campus Ministry also deserve kudos for their support and excellent planning: Monique Abatte, Bonnie Abaunza, Nancy Almodovar, Debbie Boutte, Margaret O'Connor, Erin Sulivan, Gabi Tabori and Gina Tronci.

1. Alison Akins is patiently waiting her turn to put the chairs in the cart.
2. These Freshmen are working at their favorite pasttime-putting away chairs. It is traditional for the Freshmen class to have the responsibility of taking down chairs. To accomplish this job involves pushing, finger smashing, and straining, but it does allow a little time for socializing. Freshmen eagerly look forward (?) to the time when they will no longer be plagued with this tedious job.
3. Ruth Caspary, keeping her poise, prepares to place a chair into the cart, while Norma Barba waits her turn for this exciting moment.

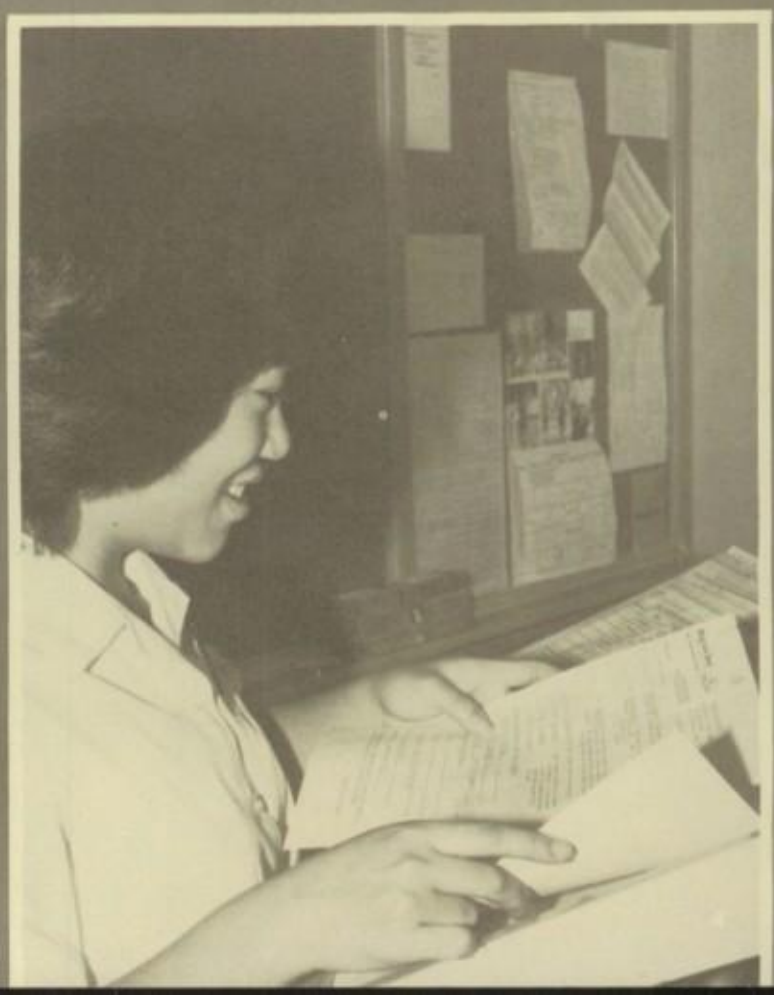
PATRONS



Both then and now, kindness and support make such publications as the ROYALE possible. This section pays tribute to the friends of NDA: the relatives, alumnae, friends of students and businesses who believe in the Notre Dame tradition. And the most timeless words apply again: THANK YOU!

1. Highest sellers in this year's patron drive receive trophies for their outstanding achievements. The winners are Ann Boyd, first place, Yvette Prado, second place, and Lilliam Paetzold, third place. Sandy Viteri, Cathy Nakano, Esther Nakano, and Diane Mottler receive Honorable Mention.
2. Sophomore Elizabeth Park is busy writing copy for the Royale deadline.
3. Hardworking members of the Royale staff are laboring over yearbook preparations.
4. Debbie Ikeda, a veteran member of the Royale staff, is busy checking the patron section for the printer.
5. Bonnie Abaunza explains the patron sheet to Norma Barba.
6. Joy Ito reviews the final layout for one of the patron pages.
7. Sophomore Bernadette Tanchauco works on a picture layout.

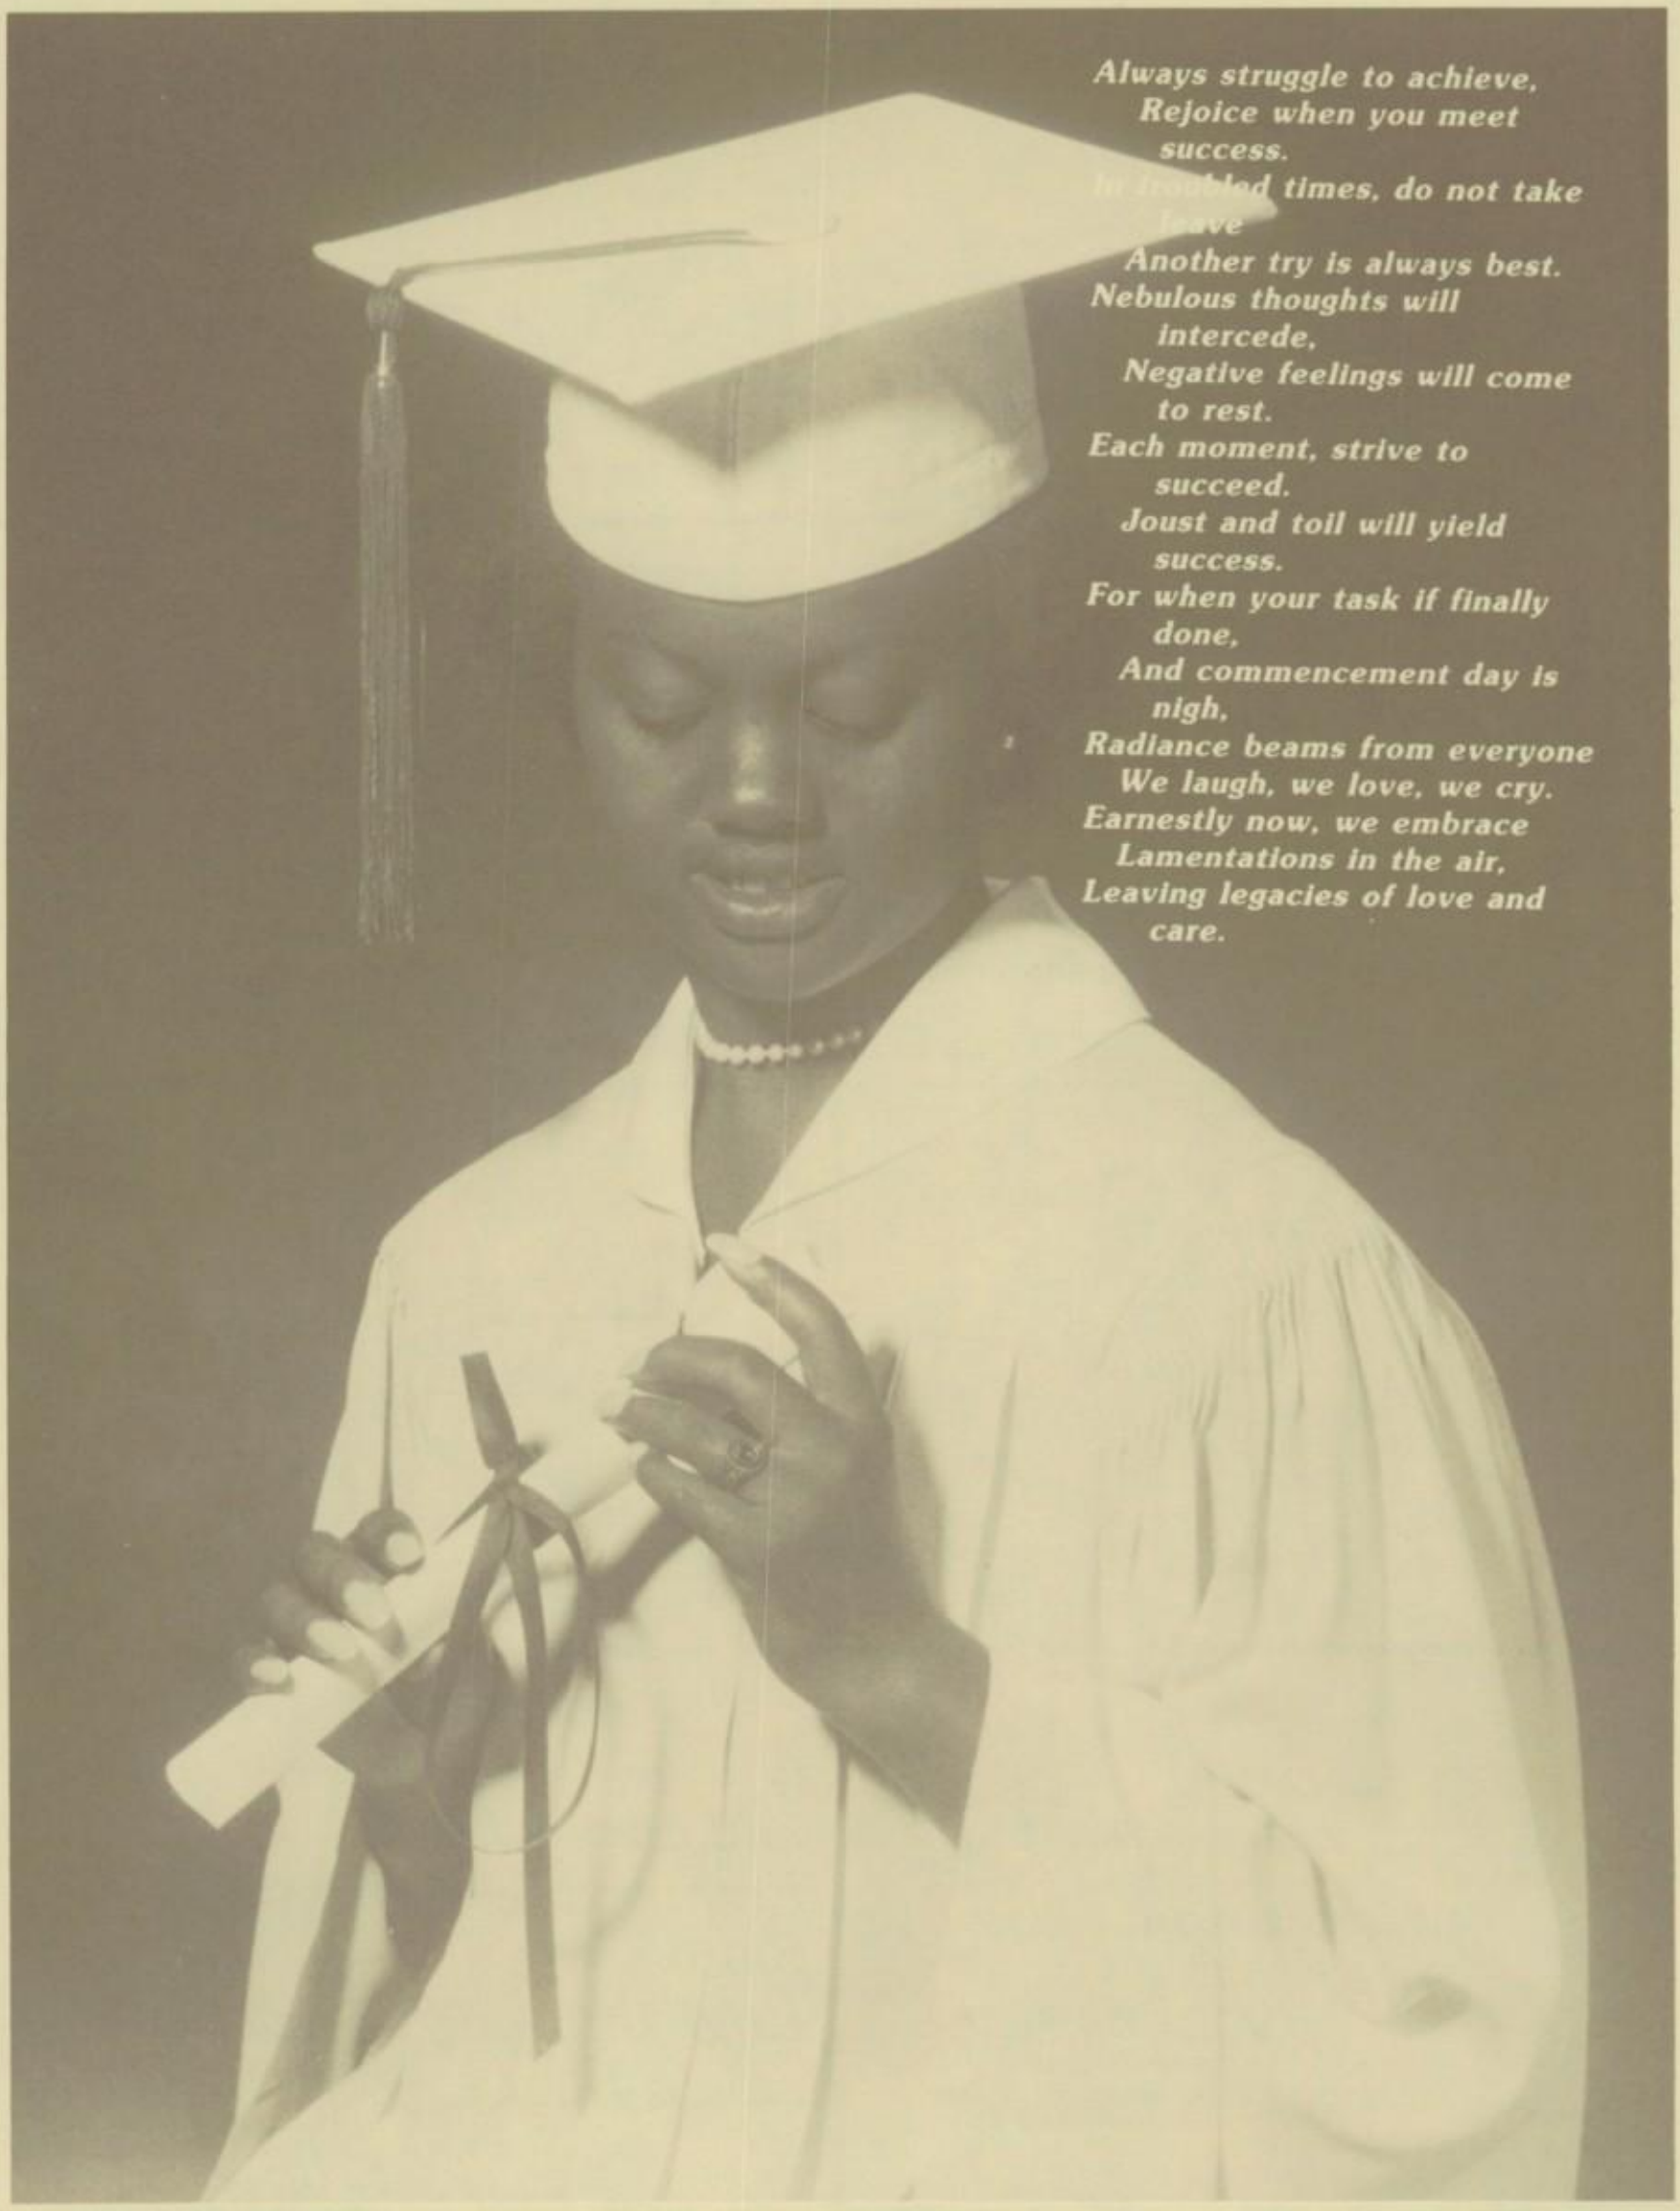
ANN—YOU'RE THE GREATEST
Love, Mom And Pop



Always struggle to achieve,
Rejoice when you meet success.
In troubled times, do not take leave
Another try is always best.
Nebulous thoughts will intercede,
Negative feelings will come to rest.
Each moment, strive to succeed.
Joust and toil will yield success.
For when your task if finally done,
And commencement day is nigh,
Radiance beams from everyone
We laugh, we love, we cry.
Earnestly now, we embrace
Lamentations in the air,
Leaving legacies of love and care.

Finally the end of Senior year...glad to get out but we wouldn't want to forget all our memories. Heidi and Melanie (the girl next door), great times to remember. "It was real." We hung out on the roof of El Torasco's and even went to San Diego. "You belong at the zoo." Emus, and Rongos & Audads, oh boy-Heidi being smothered-Melanie's new recipe for chocolate chip cookies (pancakes, huh?) Rush, Van Halen, Brucie baby, Prom (does Mel always smile like that?)-window shopping in J.C. Penney's and Heidi's, "Quick, let me borrow the keys to your truck!"-Disneyland...or at least the parking lot that is-trying to shop in Lucky's corporate offices-The party on Kentwood, Heidi fell in the bushes-Toes beach (jumping off the bridge), and diet pepsi's at the point-(not forgetting the hill or the oil co.!)-"Do I scare you?"-..."Not yet!!"-spending all day waxing the Carmen Ghia-Pac Man, Space Invaders, & Centipede-Pigouts and Tab-Magazine hunting in S.M.-miniature golfing-Chuck E. Cheese-4th of July (Baby-sitting for Mel)-Heidi's party (the case of the squished M & M's)-our chemistry tests-Gossiping all through Algebra II and History-Thumper and Bunnies and so on From Mel: To Beast: circling L.M.U.-somethings burning (water pipe) Monica: When did Springsteen start singing Tom Mcann commercials.-Annie: Karate studio-sneaking in at 3-I feel frizzy-Sheila: I'm so tan!!...From Heidi: Carleen: The pictures on the wall-"I lost my bracelet"-Mary Beast: phone conversations-your party at Anne's-Annie: punk party-my purple boots-(no, no, no!!)-Erin: Twilight zone in Westwood-stopping at green lights just to be sure-Godspell-Mary V.: Manhattan Beach-Sheila: What did you do this weekend? ooh baby?-Tracy: Picked up any more stray guys?...We could go on forever-We love ya all! Thank you for being my friend! Heidi and Mel

"Sunset"

All the days I thought could never end
All the days that seemed so far away have passed
All the loves I thought would last forever
So many happy moments are now
happy memories
But. . .I still have tomorrows
Filled with the Hope of things to come and although I watch
The Sunset now
I know
It will rise again.

I Love you all. Good luck Rochelle, Debbie, Ruth, Carolyn, Wendy, Michelle, and Marcia. I wish you all a terrific future. (that's my type of word! Good luck forever Jodi-I love you. Thanx Dad and Mom-I love you, too.
Roxanne-Thank you my friends: Laura (#1 on the list, it took a while, but we made it.), Carolyn (you cared and I luv you, I'll visit.), Cryse (17 yrs. it's my turn now, share it w/me. I luv you, dear sister, thanx, I'm glad we're so close. You're beautiful and I'm proud), John, Berni, Melissa, Mary (I'm glad Laura opened my eyes), Chevo, Michael, Tammy,, Justen,, Mr. Wallace, Mom (you made it all happen for me. I'll do the rest and I'll do it for you. You're a wonderful mother, no other like you, I love you forever), Jeff, Warren/I luv you, thanx for helping me grow up), Denise, and everyone else who has touched my life and heart.
Marysa-Now for the serious stuff: These 4 years have definitely had their ups and downs. . .but the high points are due to some very special people: First of all, B.B., thanx for teaching me so much about myself, others, and us-you've given me so much. . . hopefully, I've been able to give you my love back-Barry, I love you much . . .Carleen, despite all, I know you're a true friend (except when you show 9th grade pictures to certain people w/the initial "B"); Heidi, we've shared a lot, Good luck w/Mark-I love you; Gigi, Laura, Roxanne-I love you all! And last but definitely not least, Remember, Mom and Dad, despite all, I love you both so much and no matter where I go in life, my heart will be close to yours. . .
With love: Laura, Mary, and Roxanne AKA Roxcissa, Marysa, and Larisa. The spirit of KILROY will always remain!!

A Dedication To Emily

The things we have,
The one we love are special blessings from above!

We are the best of friends! Remember Delven, Melvin, Greg and Argo!—Monique and her little children—Debbie and her mega fine friend-—Karla, the famous artist—our husbands! conglomerate—money, money!—Michael Jackson and all the other bo-ays! Flippers, Holy Name, St. Bernadette, mini-skirts, ring day, the prom, and oh yes, Ken! Now it is Superhero Seniors! Ashley, graduation, cars, Winslow and oh yes, Ricky! But it's not the same without you!

Until we meet again.
We love you and miss you!
Debbie, Monique and Karla

To Adeline, Alice, Angelica, Diane, Gina, Irene, Jennie, Zita and all my other dumb friends:
They may lock us up in separate cells And throw away the key,
Or throw me in a 10 foot ditch
And you up in a tree.
But we're bound by something they can't break,
Something they can't see,
It's the place in a heart reserved for a friend, And Friends we'll always be.

I love you guys!

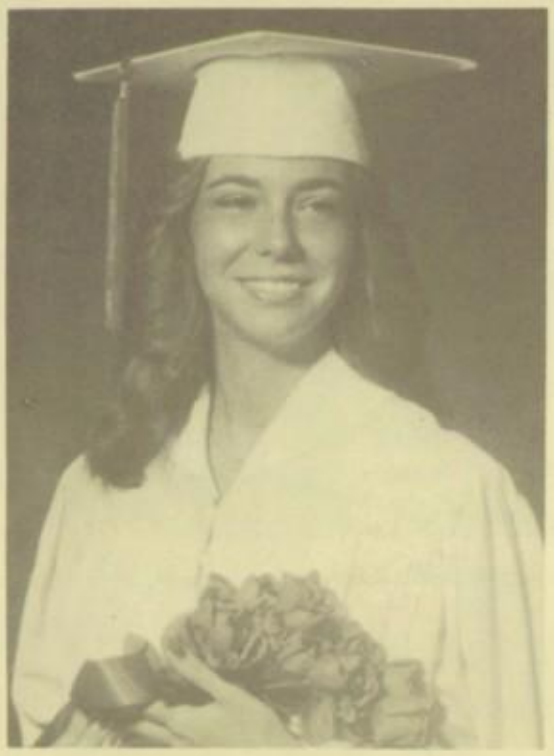
We make this dedication to our Sandy with God's blessing for a successful and very happy school career. May you always know happiness. With all our love, your mommy and brother Adi.

We finally made it! And there's so much to remember it by. Frosh yr: me, Manny, & Julie L. known as the three muskateers. Carpool and I met you Nancy and we're still as close as ever. The 1st h.s. dances: Murphy, Pater Noster, Notre Dame. Soph yr.: Century City & Bev. Hills ... "Hey let's visit Alice!" Then the summer and you went back to Austria Manny. Jun. yr.: doing flags at Loyola-oh no! the ralley. Our slogan: "Friends are forever"- me, Nancy, Weaso, Jackie, Gracie, Lori, Rosa, Judy, Alicia, Lena & June. The year of Dan & Ivan ... oh it's a sad stowy ... Ring Day ... Disneyland by couples in the van ... X-mas Dance with Dicran ... dancing away at Marylyn's ... the prom at the Queen Mary with Marc (ex-) and best of all the bon fire-6 couples caravaning to the beach. Marc & Ralph budies luv ya' both. Then my great experience with COR and Will stepped into my life. Banquet at the Princess Louise, this is where the LO's reached their "peak" ... Jamming to Numero Uno's. "17" summer: start off with one week at hospital with Leo and "John Lennon." Dune-bugging with Todd. COR Magic Mountain with Greg H ... the Westchester crowd! Endless Love- don't cry. My unforgettable trip to Ecuador with the Monics. Sen. yr: group is 10 ... Jackie you're gone and I miss ya' ... we'll take care of Rosa. Off campus privilege-Hurry! Oh I forgot Fairfax: Would you like to be arrested? cont. on ... more flag practice, more games, and another ralley (surf day) ... I need a nerve pill ... Loyola senior square locker #1124 my own mail box. Chris. Ser. at the pre- school turned out to be permanent$. Eagles: I got a peaceful easy feeling ... take it easy. Looking forward to more countless beach summers and my friend "Lowie." We'll have fun, fun, fun ... I'll miss ya all! Manny it's been tough without you. Adi at times I could ... y para la familia: no se olviden que les quiero mucho. Mom thanks for always being by me, Love from your baby,

Sandy '82



To our dear Louise, best wishes on your graduation and good luck in the future

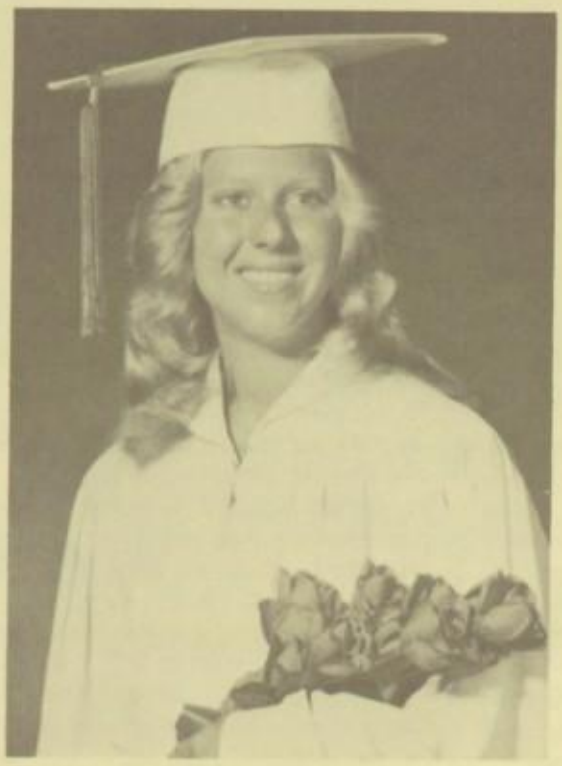
Love, Mom and Dad

"GOOD FRIENDS ARE FOREVER" I really hope it stays that way. We've had a lot of great times together. Remember: ice-skating for my b-day -our "great" train reaction fall, Jackie and the green monster, Elena almost hitting her head, Dillons for Jackie's b-day, Christian's party (disaster!) great Murphy dances, bus-stop bugs, D.M. Summer School, "The year of the Cub." Loyola football games, fun bus rides, french fries in Carl's Jr., spider with Mat & Oscar (fun, huh?) pep club meetings, ice fights at Shakey's, Loyola X-mas dance. G.P., Geometry gossip class, ch. angels, rollerskating with Loyola then Mat & Oscar, Loyola dances, Fox Hills, K.B.F. with Rafi, Bill, The Jerk, Wifey, selling choc. at Vons, bus rides to the beach, Numero Uno's after exams (our tradition), wtwd, all in Mike's car, Phantasm, book-day, 10 people in a Datsun, car breaking down- "this only happens in the movies!", Disneyland for 16th b-day, it's a sad stowy, Bruce, Peter, Grace's thanksgiving, Alicia's surprise party, Alg. II-learn anything?, class with Demerit Dugan, N.D. dances, Loyola flag girl and pep rally!, Jewish temple & don't eat horse-radish again, COR, Ivan, Dan, Mike, T.R., Paul, Jaime, Dicron, Ralph, Bruno-changing them each month-well, not all of them, UCLA mardi gras, rancho, Ring day, arrested for trespassing, babysitting and ice cream, Will and coke in my hair, going to visit Jackie, hospital visits and "John Lennon", summer romances, "Older" men, where's our friend Lowie?, beach with guys and three girls-never again June, J.R.-S.R. banquet, the great PROM, bon-fire at the beach, LAX, preview of Ch. of Fire, dune-bugging, free ice-cream, laughing attacks, Carribean cruise '81, ACDC freak, Angel's car to dance-OH MY GOD, GET ME HOME! off-campus lunch-"go faster, faster, Nancy!", fire in the car, cool!, wild rides to school with Nancy. There's soo many more memories and soo little space. I LOVE YOU ALL AND THANKS FOR BEING SUCH GOOD FRIENDS AND FOR BEING THERE WHEN I NEEDED YOU! S.V., N.A., L.P., R.P., J.S., E.D., A.E., G.R., J.L., J.G! WE FINALLY MADE IT!

Thanks MOM AND DAD- I COULDN'T HAVE MADE IT WITHOUT YOU! I LOVE YOU LOTS.

I love ya,
Louise
"Weasy"

P.S. Jackie we miss you lots, I love ya! Thanx to everyone who made my high school years memorable!



To our daughter Cindy,

Our wishes for your continued success in life are many. You will succeed where others fail, continue where others falter and find your place and happiness in your future life because of your uncanny zest for life and determination of purpose. We love you and are truly proud.

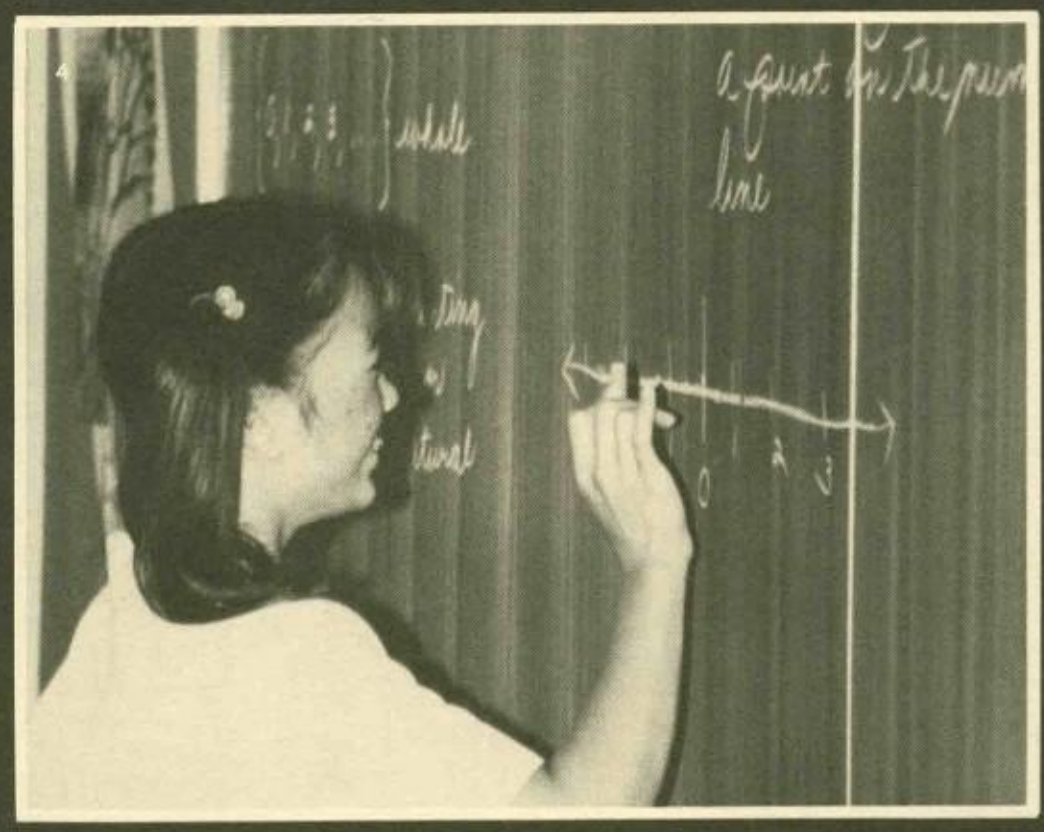
JOSEPH QUINTANA, MANAGER

Another school year has ended—a year filled with tradition and change blended together. Several new things enhanced school life, including a summer reading program, new tile on the first floor following the October 1 flood, the division of Room 308 into two classrooms, and a new lunch area where the pine tree and ivy once grew. A visitor from Rome, Sister Mary Jonathan, observed the Notre Dame spirit during December. Nearby colleges have opened more programs for ambitious high school students. What can be recorded in these rather limited pages is the result of thirty-two years of experience.



1. Trying to warm-up during the cold weather experienced on the senior retreat is Rosa Bravo.
2. There's nothing like something like milk—according to Maura Sheehan and Lola Rioja.
3. Natty Priestley reveals her ND dedication and pride as she cheers at one of the varsity basketball games.
4. Graphing a number line in Algebra I is May Gabriel.

5. Portraying their version of "Little Women" are Erin Sullivan and Bethan Davies.
6. Singing a solo as part of the performance of the Madrigals at the fashion show is Bernadette Ceballos.
7. Diane Mottler is taking advantage of the friendship graffiti poster in the cafeteria.

Relatively speaking, Notre Dame is a young institution. The school will be continuously revising, developing and growing as it works to meet the needs of the students. Next year will have its share of changes: a new course in world literature, a year-long course in American Government and current social interests, the WASC evaluation, and the introduction of a new uniform. Using the experience of the past to improve the future, Notre Dame Academy can look forward to bigger and better things as it proceeds through a fourth decade and adds more color and achievements to its sampler.

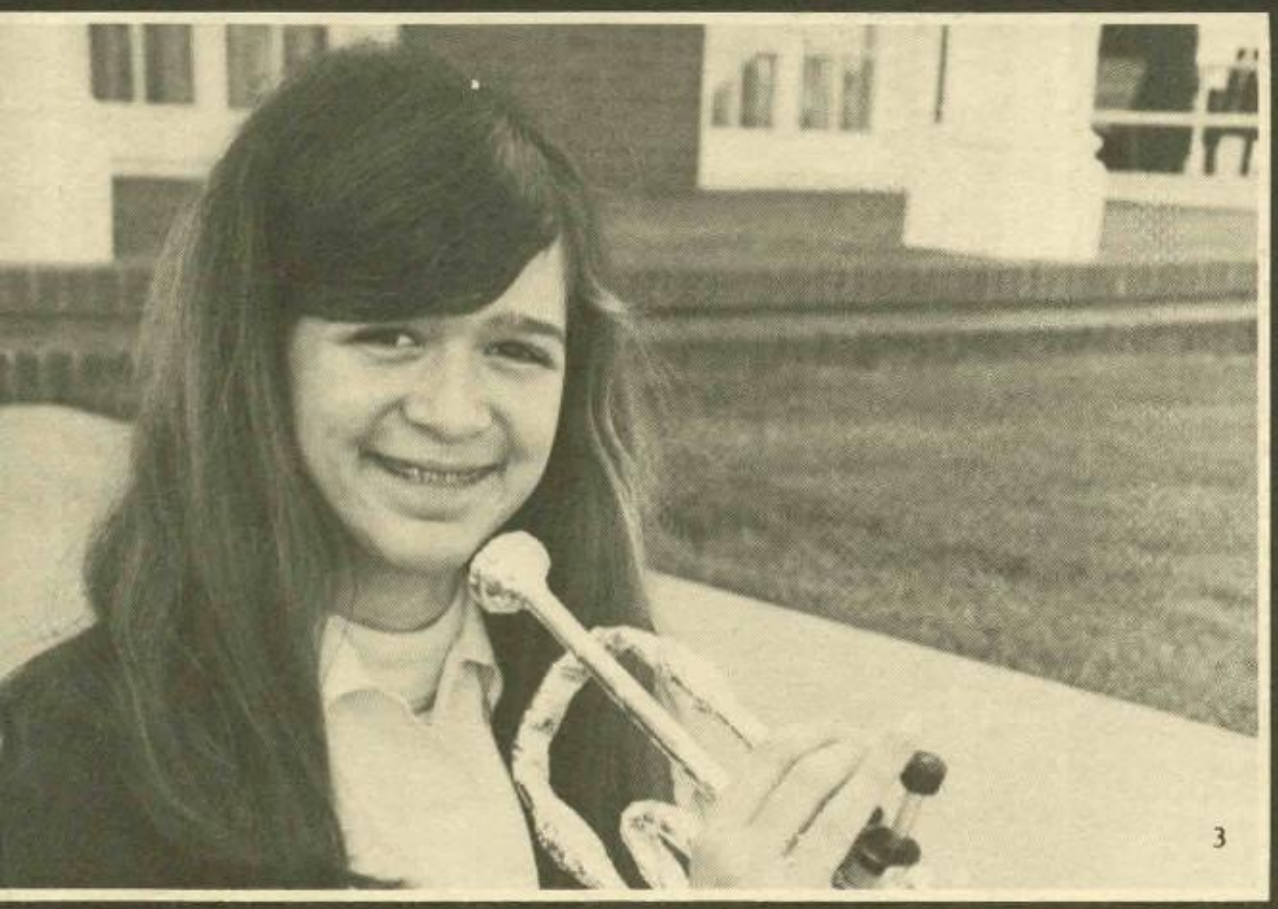
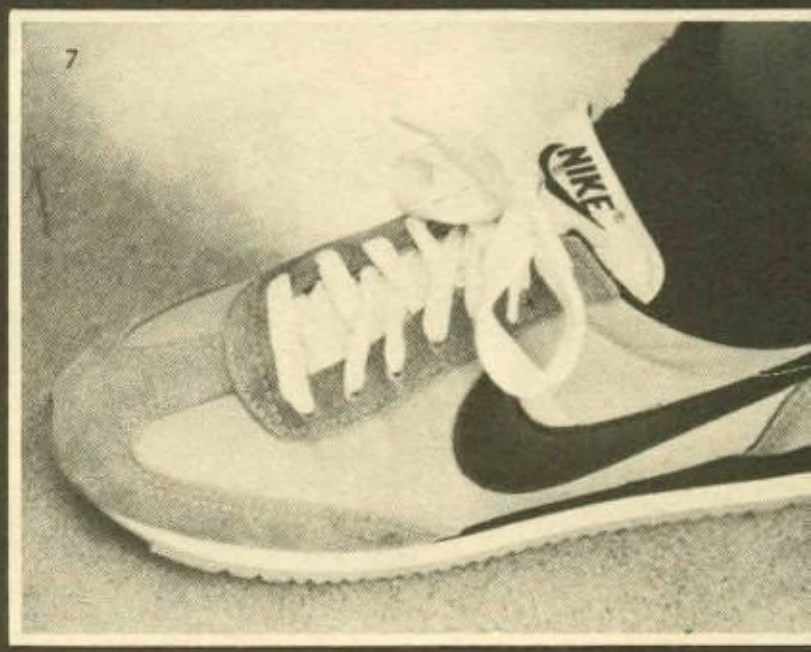
1. Sweeping away the remains of a lunchtime birthday party is sophomore Cathy Castaneda.
2. Waiting to walk the runway at the fashion show is Maureen Burns.



3. A very creative and ingenious sophomore is Roma Rodgers. During Christmas vacation, she designed and constructed this musical instrument, made of such items as Bic pens, toothbrush holders, checkers and aluminum foil.
4. Poise as well as musical ability is one of the characteristics of the Concert Choir.



5. Mary Lou Finn spikes the volleyball with all of her strength during a grueling practice.
6. Helen Martinez is glad to have Josephina Hidalgo for a little sister.
7. Nike's are the "in" shoe as modeled by one of the students.

This page is dedicated to Lucy and Stephanie by your friends Mr. and Mrs. R.B.D.

Special recognition and thanks go to the following people who have helped to make this yearbook possible: Mr. and Mrs. John Finnegan of Photography by O'Finnegan, Sister Mary Lisa, advisor, Virginia Sehl and Stanley Wakakuwa. And special thanks to all of the parents of the staff members who waited patiently...

Four years ago when I started working on the yearbook I was a "go-for" also known as a "gopher." In the past four years I have learned how to do everything from crop a picture to editing the whole book. The ideas and concepts of yearbooking are always changing, usually for the better. We have come a long way from two pica gutters down to one pica. Some other notable changes are color senior portraits instead of black and white and copy with a journalistic style instead of haphazard reporting. Anyone who has worked on a yearbook can testify that it is not glamorous work. Everything must be finished by the deadline, even if that means staying at school till eight o'clock in the evening. To be able to produce a book from September to February each year with a staff that is entirely new is actually a small miracle. Every staff has its seasoned veterans and its new arrivals. It is the putting together of knowledge, experience, creativity and new ideas in an unique way that makes no two yearbooks quite the same. Something in the yearbook will always change. There are those who love it, those who suggest improvements and those who accept it as is. I hope you enjoy the book made with T.L.C. by the staff of the 1981-1982 Royale.

Dear Aida, I'm really glad I got to know you better this year! You're a really sweet person. Have fun during the summer and RELAX!! It will be hard because "you know who" is going to make us read! Rose!! Try to have fun, anyways!

SOPHS RULE! '84

Lots of love,
Madelin Tundidor

Dear Aida,

Even though we don't speak to each other (I mean gossip or whatever) doesn't mean that I don't love you. I hope we have more classes together. We'll meet again, maybe then we'll have more time to write to each other. I'm not going to be around the summer, because I'm going to Davao during the summer. Call me during the summer, be good (I mean really good) and take care. Love you always.

Dear Aida,

Ito ay isang tunay na kaibigan... Kung may problema ka, andito ako para sayo. Kung gusto mong magsaya, andito ako para sayo. Kung gusto mong umiyak, andito ako para sayo. Kung gusto mong tumawa, andito ako para sayo. Kung gusto mong kumain, andito ako para sayo. Kung gusto mong matulog... andito ako para sayo!!! Ha-ha-ha... Ganun ka ba kadesperada para maghanap ng kaibigan? Ha-ha-ha... Can't wait to see you again. Have a good time in Davao... Ingat ka, Jamma

Dear Aida,

Thanks for being a friend. I hope we become closer friends next year. Have a nice summer. Be good and don't do anything I wouldn't do. Have fun!

Love,
Aileen

Dear Aida,
I found a nice spot to write you a little message. Last year I had you in Spanish & in English. This year its different and I have you in Religion and Spanish. Looks like we are suppose to stay in Spanish for as long as we take it here at good ol NDA. I've enjoyed your company and I think you are a super friend. I've gotten to know you alot better. I hope our friendship continues 4-ever

Thanx
Shelly

Hi Aida, (Lola-la-la-la-la Lola)
Well, finally the school year is over. We had a lot of fun in Spanish w/ Ms. Horwinski — most of the time she was a real pain in the butt! We got through it, though. You're a real sweet person, and very artistic! Don't change O.K.!?! And have a great summer with Terry.

Love Ya,
Jaime

NO WONDER I ENDED UP WITH MONO! ... AND A VIRAL DISEASE (NOT HERPES!) ... AND STREP THROAT, AND THE GERMAN MEASLES ... AND A LIVER INFECTION. AND...

TWO MONTHS OUT OF SCHOOL. SOME ENVIED ME, BUT I KNEW BETTER. IT WAS HELL! I'LL ALWAYS REMEMBER THE PAGE I FILLED IN MY DIARY W/ A REPEATED, "I AM GOING INSANE, I..." ART WAS GROOVY. SHE LIKED US TOO. CAN'T WAIT FOR NEXT YEAR...

WHY DIDN'T WE DO ANYTHING ABOUT GETTING TOGETHER OUTSIDE OF SCHOOL? THAT WILL DEFINITELY HAVE TO BE IMPROVED UPON.

THANKS TO ALL THE SOAP-OPERA LIVES OUR FRIENDS LEAD, WHICH GAVE US HOURS OF JUICY GOSSIP! YOU'VE BEEN GREAT!!!

REMEMBER THE GIGANTI-GRAM YOU SENT ME ON MY B-DAY? YOU'RE SO SPECIAL, I LOVE YOU! TAKE CARE FOR A TERRIFIC JUNIOR YEAR.

WATCH OUT WORLD!!

Love Lynn Marie

DEAR AIDA MARIE:

SOPHOMORE YEAR WAS FUN. WE THOUGHT WE WERE SO COOL, AND WE WERE SUCH LITTLE SHITS!! IF YOU USED YOUR BRAIN ONCE + A WHILE I COULD'VE HAD ALL MY CLASSES WITH YOU — BUT NOOOO.... WASN'T CHEMISTRY WITH MR. HAKE FUN? YOU ONLY KNOW HE LOVED US. I NEVER DESERVED A "C", BUT THATS A DIFFERENT STORY. OUR FIRST X-MAS DANCE SEEMED LIKE THE WORLD. I REMEMBER PUSHING + PURSUADING YOU TO GO. DON'T ASK WHY... GOD FORBID ANYONE SHOULD FIND ALL OR ANY OF OUR NOTES, LETERS, + BOOKS WE WROTE TO EACH OTHER DURING CLASS. SOPHOMORE YEAR HAS GOT TO BE REMEMBERED BY ALL THE GUYS IN MY LIFE. I SURE CUT IT CLOSE AT TIMES: RAY AT 12:00 JOHN AT 2:00, PAT AT 6:00. ITS

Dear Aida—

Jeny + Aida 4-ever

We've gone through a lot this year and I guess you can say we matured. I learned a lot about you and your feelings and also about me. I hope that Next year we can have many classes together and build up a better closer relationship. I don't know if I have told you this but that best friend charm you gave me means a lot to me. I feel like its a bond between us. Even though I see you often at school, I would still like to see you more like maybe in the summer. We could do some radical things. maybe like Hawaii, Palm Springs (cruise on the strip & check out all the gorgeous guys w/ their beutiful tans & bods), beach, Amusement parks. & just have plain fun. Don't forget we better start going on a crash diet so we could fit into those cute skimpy bikinis. I think you're the sweetest, kindest, prettiest, smartest, funniest, munchiest, rowdiest and the craziest friend I ever had. You make my day just w/a hug or a smile. Thanks for the memories we so far had and for many good ones in the future. I wish the best for you in all you do and many happy wishes for a life of happiness. Most of all I want to say "I Love you Just the Way You Are." Take Care ok?

Love always Aleece, Alice,
Alicia

Remember... the our Friday lunches? Diane's? Mrs. Prune? chemistry w/ Mr. Hake? Art? the radio? The ugly, old & mean nun? and many more memories.
